Is there any place people buy these? I've got two accounts which I've spent thousands on just sitting around for the past year.

People do buy them, but they do not go for as much as they used to.

You could probably post in the marketplace here or look for other places that deal with mobile game accounts. Most of the money has moved to FEH, FGO, and Dokkan Battle.

I agree.

O.T: Thanks for the info everyone.

Yes, people still buy them. Though the prices have deflated proly because of the TH11 update and the builder base update. I have a maxxed out TH11, when I first bought it way back January 2015, it costed me about $350 and now I'm getting offers of $100 or below. Ain't no way am I gonna sell it. Just ain't worth it.
