I am not sure if this belongs in the C++ section..

Interesting though, any demo video?

Nah I just remember you sent it as a text message and splat dead Apple.

Took me ages to find it. Can't even vouch 100% if it's legit anymore.

I never worked out even slightly how it worked.

iMessage has extremely poor sanitization of content before attempting to display it. There have been numerous times that character strings cause an application crash which in turn causes an OS reboot or similar issue.
