Thread: Actual Fighter Pilots?

Mr.Miyagi - April 25, 2018, 3:23 pm

I'm sure we are all mostly aware of Nuworld's pathetic incident making a complete ass of himself to the public. It was stolen valor regardless of his sad video explanation.

As someone who's dream has been to fly fighter jets since I was 5 years old, I took great offence to his childish lies.

When I first read the post, before actually analyzing any of the bullshit he smeared on the thread, I was genuinely intrigued to see that there was potentially an actual fighter pilot on the forum.

So I wanted to ask the community, are there any ACTUAL fighter pilots in here that could tell me anything about their experiences?

I have done extensive research into the job obviously, I already know most of the information regarding the selection process and requirements, aircraft requirements, etc.

But I still have many questions and it would be greatly appreciated if any LEGITIMATE and HONEST pilots shared their experiences with me and gave me any advice possible.

Thanks!

A user in Samaritins was in the airforce, not going to say who for privacy reasons though

Just saying the "air force" is pretty broad.

Was he a pilot?

Nuworld apparently knows a whole lot about the airforce, been shot down twice I am told. ?

Closest member to come to mind is Agony/Ahri but he's only a grunt in the USAF ?

No idea, he didn't say.

I'm a real pilot.. or am I just doing my own 4 year experiment for my book that I'm writing? ?

falkenburry - April 25, 2018, 4:22 pm

I highly doubt anyone from here is/was a pilot, if so just a select few. Only 1% of the air force even gets to fly.

Boy did you just call me a grunt? I'll have you know the professional and civilian version of my job is aerospace maintainer. Shit makes me sound like I'm making fat stacks...when I'm not.

Although OP I'm quite the pilot on GTA online and bf4. Feel free to ask this elite pilot about how I land a jet on a tower.

sssniperwolf - April 25, 2018, 5:13 pm

Shame he would do such a thing

DARPA - April 25, 2018, 5:15 pm

Can I fly a plane ? Yes. Am I in the airforce ? No.

SIM-964740 - April 25, 2018, 9:05 pm

Good like becoming a fighter pilot. You have to go through all the training and then only have the chance of being selected as a fighter pilot or flying other shit. That's what kind of turned me off the chair force.

RRRaptor - April 25, 2018, 9:50 pm

I'm a commercial pilot. If you have any questions feel free to ask me!

yea actually I have a lot of questions because I'm not excluding commercial flying from my options. I'd like to know what I'd need to get my degree in and what the pay is like.

Also to be honest it sounds dreadfully boring. Although I know my chances of flying fighters is slim but I feel like sitting in an airbus for 8+ hours at a time would be miserable. It's still flying though and that's most important to me so I'd also like to know how you cope with the boredom

The fun is in the take off and landings, which I've been told are the most dangerous parts of flight. So yeah, just piss around the cabin for the rest of the time and hope no one shoots missiles at you.

Well for starters I can't tell you what degree you should choose and what the pay is like because it differs from country and airline. Read my Pilot QnA thread and see if some answers are there for you.

8+ hours at a time would be considered medium-long haul but it doesn't have to be like that. I fly domestically and have roughly 5-7 sectors per working day. I attained my CPL from a flight college with government assistance paying for it, flew scenic for hours and gained my MECIR/ATPL later on.
