your terms of service make me wanna shank my knees ui is kinda boring, reminds me of another website with a predominantly blue theme hmm

I agree, however I do prefer this color scheme oppose to the other.. or other(s).

There's not really much going on, it does look pretty clean and professional but overall it seems boring. Why should I use this instead of anything else?

I'd rather use MySpace.

You dont use myspace? Weirdo tbh. Myspace is my shit.

Noisy - April 26, 2018, 11:41 pm

It doesn't look to bad, like others have said it does look professional however what are the features / benefits of using this one compared to other similar sites?

our app has way more features

But as much as users "love" our blue UI

we will be changing it to prevent...well you know lol and TOS is being updated as we just started.

And one major benefit is you are anonymous, no ip or location is saved

during sign up or use of our app/site also unlike facebook and other big sites we dont sell your data or know more about you than you know about your self ?

Really appreciate the honesty here!

Site will be under works as its still beta so please any other problems or likes/dislikes do tell!

How many users do you have? What are your plans? Where do you see this in 3 - 5 years?

Additionally, why should someone use this over something like Amino or Facebook?

"and chat anonymously"

This seems interesting. Can we chat about anything we want? Or you have rules against discussions about less than whitehat methods? What type of content are users encouraged to share? Everyday shit and memes? Or questions about marketing etc?

I would suppose they could use this over facebook or amino because privacy is a big thing now days most companies say that they value it but then they sell your data to 3rd party places for millions

I think its time for such a thing to stop, so Ryzen.Network was created, its safe to use and there is no chat logging along with ip logging, email is only kept so you may recover your password :)

In 3-5 years I hope by then that I have a bigger developer team and we have refreshed the layout of the mobile site and android app so its more appealing to the eye, as for now I am currently doing my best

You can chat about anything pretty much, just your basic CP and terrorist stuff isn't allowed, we do ask if you could keep that out, we can't monitor chats and we don't log them but it is still possible for other people to see what you say, once instance is they can screen shot the chat, or maybe someone walking behind you could notice it etc. It is possible that if we do get abuse reports we may have to monitor chats, we hope it does not come to that because it's very privacy invading so as typed above, be smart don't post stupid things lol

Let me guess..are you using a web software for your site? Because I have actually seen the same design somewhere else as a default theme.

If not, the design is pretty simple and you should enhance it. It's just a plain design and wouldn't really gather much attraction unless you change the UI and the design.
