I gave it a quick try and it worked fairly well. I'll see if I can see more of it if its really better.

Just curious, how will you stop abusive activities.

I wanted to try to set something up like this myself, but it would be too much of a legal hassle.

If you don't keep logs, you can't find out who did what

I can't stop abusive activities but as far as I'm aware The Netherlands does not have a data retention law since 2015 which allows me to run the service without any customer data or logs. Worst case scenario, I shut down the service or change IP addresses for the users.

There is an adblocker enabled on the VPN now to save bandwith and get rid of those annoying ads for mobile users.
