Thread: A few words from the Writ3rs team | Official Announcement

Makaveli The Don - April 27, 2018, 8:10 pm

Dear my beloved Hack Forums members,

Recently there has been a change within the Writ3rs group. Due to the recent events surrounding NuWorld, he will no longer hold the position of the Wiki team leader and has been removed from the Writ3r's group.

The Writ3rs ultimate goal is to provide Hack Forums' members with the best quality and HONEST journalism content. Due to these recent events, I have been appointed as the new Wiki team leader and Writ3rs' leader with iHydra. The erosion of the trust the community holds towards the Writ3rs group is unacceptable, and there will be massive changes coming. These changes will benefit not only the group but the entire community. We are looking forward to the progression of the group and hope to gain back the trust that has been lost.

As you may or may not know, the Writ3rs group has been split into two sections for sometimes. The Hack Forums News section, and the Wiki section. However, after the recent events concerning the leadership of the Wiki team, iHydra and I have come together to get rid of the entire notion of having two sections and will proceed to make it one whole again like it was initially. Recent changes have made this possible, and we have great plans for the future. Our team has always been filled with high-quality writers who have a passion for the art of writing and don't mind dedicating their free time to Hack Forums, and it is informational sources. As such, we will continue forward with the same message as we have always had, to strive to accurately record, report, and represent the history of Hack Forums.

We thank you for your support! ?

I, along with the rest of the forums, are excited for what the future holds. The recent drama was in no way called for and we must move on from the childish antics.

I am looking forward for what you and iHydra have instore for the group.

Best of luck with everything!

I did not know there was drama within the group. I'm glad everything has been resolved and you are now running the Wiki team. I remember you from a few older groups. You're fit for the position.
