Thread: Platinum Cheats has been detected AGAIN...

RegretfulSIN - April 29, 2018, 9:45 am

So for the second time in one month, platinumcheats has been VAC waved again..

This is a warning to anyone that is looking for a provider to go with, do NOT risk your account like others have with such a copy pasted piece of crap.

Seriously LC should be a good choice? You're a joke.

LC is a scam, he even scams his staff, and fire them when they ask to get their money back.

Been neutral on the LC drama for years, but I'm fed up. It's fcking disgusting to look at.

LC is censored here on Hackforums for a good reason.

I've had a private from LC for years and never had any problems. Also without any actual evidence, you claims can't really be taken seriously can they.

You also do realize his staff don't have to pay a penny for anything, and he even pays them?

I thought it was a pretty good cheat, but damn... how the hell do these large cheat companies get detected?

Yeah, even Aimware hasn't been detected twice in 1 month (i think)

Because they don't care about security. Instead of doing testing prior to release, they just release what they think is the problem and say VAC secure lets go.

Agreed. It was meant to be the next best thing around but they can't even seem to stay UD on VAC which is piss easy to bypass.

lol.....

you obviously are extremely, EXTREMELY retarded if you think you can last more than a few days with the user base platinum has, you can't compare that to any p2c. I hate their guts, but the fact they can last a week with that userbase is nothing short of impressive, only the amount of reviews they have exceeds the userbase of 90% of p2cs

Lucky you, cause I know a few who have had problems.

As I cannot see numbers, how many people use it?

Also, going straight to name calling shows your level of intelligence quite well.

Problems can arise when people don't use the product properly, you can't blame the coder for that.

Also, I've deleted the my recommendation part as I wasn't aware it was banned from being talked about. I'm sorry about that.

Also, if I'll delete the thread if asked as I wasn't aware it was totally banned from being talked about. I'm sorry about that.

Has nothing to do with not using the product corrently.

I'm curious btw: How do you find it fair, taking money for a "league cheat" (LC 3.0) for over a year, without releasing it?

Can we move this to PM so we don't have to talk publicly about a banned website?

You've already NEG rept me for something I wasn't aware about...
