Thread: Anyone else love harry potter?

HuñDr?d - May 2, 2018, 12:07 pm

ok so im 21 years old and i just last month discovered harry potter, well i always knew it was there but something in me never went thru with watching it idk what it was, but HOLY SHIT i fuckin fell in love dude. everything about it is amazing, i finished all the movies , then felt i didnt grast all i could and watched them all again and am currently on the end of the 4th book reading it. i cant believe i was deprived of this experience as a child . its crazy how detail jk rowling goes into making the harry potter universe with such an elaborate back story and carefully thought out story lines in every aspect of every bit of the books. just thought id share with you guys

That's kind of crazy you've never seen this before, its good now but as a kid its like your tripping balls and watching the movie and it was fucking awesome. But ya great movies

SIM-3326956 - May 2, 2018, 12:20 pm

Biggy - May 2, 2018, 12:21 pm

I seen 1 movie as a kid, still haven't rewatched it or seen any of the other ones. Not sure if I should watch them or not.

One day when you have nothing to do just get some weed and have a marathon ?

Eccy - May 2, 2018, 12:30 pm

Never watched the movies or read the books.

monstermaash - May 2, 2018, 12:33 pm

I personally love the harry potter franchise. JK Rowling does an amazing job with the whole details and connecting the dots between movies. The wizarding universe is so massive that there is so much more to tell. Cant wait for the next movie.

I also heard there was a Broadway show about what happens next.

its called Harry Potter and the Cursed Child

UnknownWhisper - May 2, 2018, 1:49 pm

Why people even like that book?

Vegeta - May 2, 2018, 2:08 pm

Harry Potter is awesome. My mom made me watch all the movies and I read the first two but never ended up reading the rest. It's a great series and an all time favorite by far.

thatusername - May 2, 2018, 2:12 pm

It's definitely one of my favourite movie series. Personally, my favourite one is either the Chamber of Secrets, or the Half-Blood Prince. I'm not sure what makes them so special to me, but they sure are good. Haven't read the books though, should probably do that but I'm so stuck up with a whole lot of Murakami books ehehehe.

REEEEERRRE - May 2, 2018, 3:13 pm

bruv life is so weird. i was literally thinking about Harry Potter randomly at work this morning out of the blue and had some convos about it. and then i see this, sometimes i feel like things do happen for a reason and they aren't coincidences

I agree, but the goblet of fire and half-blood prince were my favorites of the series. Mainly cause in the 6th one a lot of magic was going on and the scenes were pretty dope.
