Thread: i hear some older guy through window grunting loudly next to my window

Account of the Gods - May 3, 2018, 1:00 pm

Usually up to one time in morning and sometimes maybe more times in day.

i hear him about 5 times in a week.

wtf? im sure hes doing it on purpose.

PS this lasts a year or more

WugOne - May 3, 2018, 1:06 pm

I would call the feds tbh.

Eccy - May 3, 2018, 1:08 pm

This made me giggle, you sure it wasn't your neighbor masturbating?

no. i have pavement near window so whenever he goes this way he does it purposely

Tesla - May 3, 2018, 1:40 pm

Knock on his window next time and see what's good ?

The Doge of Wall Street - May 3, 2018, 1:40 pm

i would go ask him tbh

if he would say something idiotic i would get him back for it otherwise call the cops

Split up with her on Friday, she left like Monday night after I told her I dont want her bedding with me anymore, and I wanted proper sleep being Im not a couple with her anymore, she tripped and ran to her moms, so I got the place all to myself, and been mingling with the ladies.... I dont intend on staying single for long. lol

This is odd, you live in the country or in a ruralish area? Have you seen the person? Or are just hearing this and never seen anything? I am guessing that you probably close curtains and windows at night right? This is just odd like I am sure that there is some sicko but it's odd. Record it if you can it's gotta be loud grunts if the window is closed .. etc

Sir-Teabag - May 3, 2018, 2:14 pm

yo upload it to youtube for us lmaoooo

Yeah we need a video, get recording OP!

Jxy. - May 3, 2018, 5:13 pm

OP can you yell WORLLLLLSTAAAAAR when you catch him in the act whilst he's grunting. Even if it's non-embarrassing and he's just doing an everyday task but grunting obnoxiously. Get recording!

Are you sure he's been doing it on purpose for a year or so? Seems awfully long for it to be some kind of joke. Unless it's a really good one.

HAHAH yes do this too! ^^^

record that shit

Vegeta - May 4, 2018, 12:46 am

Next time he's grunting outside of your window just go next to your window and start yelling really obnoxiously. That'll teach him.

Yeah pretty much this, no other way to deal with it.
Granted this could fuel him more though, if he's really a nutjob.

Every night? For over a year?
Maybe he should consider closing the window, no way this isn't on purpose. He probably gets off on the fact that people can hear him.

Just put a hidden CCTV camera then send it to his family if that's what he's doing lmao

Shlazam - May 4, 2018, 4:29 am

Have you attempted screaming back yet?

A friend of mine has an apartment in a nice community in New York City.. Everyday there's this Asian woman you can hear freaking out. Every single day. Random times sometimes even at 3 am. Let's just say his common room isn't a safe place for a nap if you want to wake up thinking you're being attacked by a crazy Asian woman. We were never able to find which apartment shes in or where the noise is coming from, but we always scream back and never get a reply.

Try screaming back or grunting back i'm interested to hear what would happen lmao

quick update

i checked through window and I saw older guy (grandpa age) grunting even after he passed my window.

so i think its his health condition lulz

i thought im in danger but seems he does that every minute or less/more

If you said you're jacked why would you feel you're in danger from some old dude? They're super weak.

Well at least it wasn't someone or something worse. A couple of years back I heard some one jumping over the fence in the backyard, went out back heard a bit of rustling and saw a coyote as it hopped and now standing on top of the trash can, it went right back over the fence. He had cleared a 6 foot fence and hopped up onto the trashcan, meanwhile my dog seems one bite away from not making it up on the couch .

Account of the Gods - June 8, 2018, 2:32 pm im refreshing this thread because im still hearing that mofo nearly everyday. srsly i looked through window and it was some nearly hairless old mofo. how dare he grunt by my window????????????

this cant be his medical condition. its impossible to have a medical condition that makes you grump nearly 30 seconds for 24/7 as he wouldnt be able to sleep.

M?xim - June 8, 2018, 2:42 pm

Not sure if I should move this to Health Wise for his condition or to Innuendo for you having a crush on him.

crispy - June 8, 2018, 2:47 pm

he's obviously trying to get your attention ;)

kiwi - June 8, 2018, 4:05 pm

Maybe he has dementia, or maybe he's one of those OG meth-heads...

both will make these weird noises when they think they're alone to occupy space / stimulate themselves auditorily.

Maybe its just a dude who likes making weird noises

MaxoKream - June 8, 2018, 5:24 pm

Where I live it's pretty quiet but if you happen to live down in the city it's next to impossible to sleep/focus with all the crazy people screaming and construction. Good balance.

Maybe he's getting fucked up the ass by a dominatrix.

We don't know, these are tough questions you'll have to ask yourself if you hear a grown man groaning next-door.

Eternal. - June 8, 2018, 7:36 pm

He might be having a seizure. Not that he would make those sounds if so but you don't know that, call the police. Maybe it is something serious.

It likely can't be of that caliber seriousness. Maybe a few tones lower, perhaps he was mowing the lawn and he tripped on his own lawn and starting grunting, you never know.
