Thread: where to scan files now? :\(

Joyflinch - May 3, 2018, 10:42 pm

hello, now viruscheckmate.com gone forever for indefinite period, nodistribute and spyralscanner also use their api, and run4me only do 13 or so av engine scan runtime so where to scan files now? please help.

regards

I saw this as well he has to be joking if not what you said totally applies.

OP how about setting up a VM different snapshots with different AV's perhaps just copy sections from the file you wish to scan and keep it off the internet after updating that way less chance of a full payload being burned.

Use detectwith.me

It is kinda limited but free no distribute scanner what more do you expect

Hi,

We are developing our own scanner engine, it has been in development for months, currently it has 15 AV engines, it will be available asap when it's done.
