Can we just take a moment and talk about this track which in my eyes is probably one of the best masterpieces to be made. The amount of shots taking at various type of people, groups, agencies, and organizations in a 4min track and music video is just incredible...

Haven't seen this much of deep undirect shots taking that way in prob a long time!

Am I the only person who have the same thoughts?

What're your thoughts on the track and music video? ?

Thought it was a pretty tired message and largely overrated tbh

Its an extremely well made video but the song and the message is not really anything amazing. It's cool af but I wouldn't go as far as to say its the best in the world

Donald Glover is an amazing artist though. The dudes a creative genius.

I'm simply amazed at the amount of messages included in that video...
props to everyone working on that video and track

I'd say its definitely one of the best music videos ever made.
It was directed by Hiro Murai, the same dude that directed Atlanta.

I love that he got thugga, quavo, 21 savage and slim jimmi for the adlibs it so perfect lmao

This is the kind of music video that Kanye thinks Kanye is producing

The dancing in the very beginning is similar to Jim Crow posters way back when. Just google it. A lot of really cool symbolism
