The only thing I don't like is that the comments are so basic like "cool!". I post memes and funny posts, could the comments be at all related to the post? Although they obviously aren't bots my followers would be confused from the comments. Thanks ?

Yes you can set your own rules.

For example:

"Like and comment - min 4 words related."

By doing this they will know how to help you build your engagement.

- Hi, thanks for your questions.

Yes you can join with any page.

Yes you can swap engagement - of course! That's what it's for!!!

vinzzard - May 11, 2018, 12:50 pm

I recommend use this service, you will get comments and likes by verified users.

Entim Inc - May 11, 2018, 2:00 pm

Notice to all -

I will be making some changes to my service.

1. Price of engagement groups will be increasing.
2. Normal engagement groups will be added.
3. Private engagement groups will be added

For those who are wondering what private engagement groups are.

It's when you're in a 3 member group chat which will consist of myself, yourself and a verified user with usually 2-5M+ followers. The advantage of this is so you can contact them directly and get engagement faster.

Thanks for all the support from everyone so far, I've been getting so much great feedback from everyone.

Changes will occur once I get my l33t upgrade and I can edit my post!

The groups are what you and everyone in them make of it.

If yall remain active, then no reason for the group to go dead.

So make sure you engage with people so they can return.

Happy days.

Bought the lifetime service and have been in one of the groups for a week. Haven't gotten reaction but from 2-3 people maybe.. a 5k, 10k, and 400k. Disappointed in the outcome of the group considering more than half the group of 10 doesn't comment/like or even talk in the group.

Edit: just got the notification from PayPal that he accepted the payment, still waiting on a reply from him on skype or an add to a group. Will continue to update as the process goes

Edit: we've talked, he's pretty helpful so far, im being added to the group in the morning :) will continue to update on the quality of the group tomorrow when im added

Final Edit: added me to the group, it's a good group and the people are quick to engage with me. Might buy another one soon :)

waiting for more than a month now to be added in remaining 3 groups.

more than 3 groups are almost dead. atleast 3-4 people are same in every group most of them won't care engaging with your account unless you are big already.

M4MBA - June 3, 2018, 10:21 am

Ordered 5 groups, got added to the first one a day after, got added to the second a few days after, added to the 3rd 1-2 weeks after, still awaiting to be added to the final 2 groups. Currently there are a lot of the same people in each group, one user also said it was "Verified only" which was a bit strange - however he sometimes likes and comments on my posts. There are only about 4 people in each group that will actually like and comment and it seems as if the rest of them have it muted and don't even check/post their own stuff in.

Overall I feel kind of let down as I was expecting a bit more than this.

It's not fair to blame people in the group for not engaging with your content when you post the same post in the group multiple times; not to mention you're promoting and selling illegal items...:

Update: Honestly the group he added me to is a pretty shitty group, it has like 9 verified ppl (4-5 of them have 50k or less followers, 2-3 have 150k and one has 750k, the rest of the accounts are just e-commerce stores).

Also when I mentioned to him that the group is shitty, he told me to not DM him anymore... I guess I should've just acted like I am satisfied?

Maybe he does have better groups but this is my experience.

Good luck!

You must lack basic common sense for you to judge a group without using it.

I sold you a cheap group which is still active and brang you results as I can see.

I have no time for whining kids so please take your bullshit opinion elsewhere.

Entim Inc - September 29, 2018, 1:05 pm

(Sep 29, 2018 11:57 AM)Tekashi69 Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) I can see the users of the group without using the group.

You never mentioned that you sell expensive and cheap groups, I saw a price of $15 for 1 group and I paid for it, I didn't expect such shitty quality.

If you can't take your customers opinion on your service you need to stop offering it. I see you are really butthurt because when I messaged you with my honest opinion you told me not to message you anymore. This isn't how service providers usually treat their customers, except the ignorant ones like yourself.

This is my honest review and if you don't have time for it just ignore it, I am just letting other members know what to expect.

EDIT: Furthermore, the user engagement that I got from the group was mostly from e-commerce stores and small stat accounts. Only one verified user engaged with me, and it is a jacked verified account, not the owner himself.

The facts are you joined a group, within 2mins of me adding you I got a message saying the groups are shit. Now you can lie all you want but so far your engagement is doing much better then your most recent posts.

Currently: 132 Likes

Currently: 21 Regular Comments

Currently: 2 Verified Comments

Baring in mind it's only been a few hours and something called time zones exist. Not everyone is going to be active at all times. You can't expect perfect results from these groups, infact any. To be able to use these groups to their fullest advantage you need paitence.

Now, I have no problem with you as a person but before you try and slate my service atleast try it properly.

Pattern up.

Worst groups i have ever seen!

these groups are just like4like, or comment4comment

it did nothing for your account, he is right about having some good accounts in the groups, but the best thing they can do it just comment and like your photo, and? its even not make your account better

He removed me from the group because i commented on his photo " Cool "
and he told me dont comment Cool i just said why after that he removed me from group lol?

i told to him sorry and get me back in group since i paid for that not because i like it and he said no iam not saying this becuase he removed me, but the groups are really shit

Sorry for bad english, not my first language !

Sorry for bad english, not my first language !You've just contradicted yourself about why you've been removed from a premium group I added you too for FREE. You are still in the groups you have paid for so please correct yourself. I understand English may not be your first language, however, let's keep to straight facts.

The reason I removed you from as mentioned the premium group is you lack effort in the engagement you give which is why people do not want to engage back. I received multiple complaints and when you were questioned about it you found it funny.

you removed me for no reason, just because i said why, you can just tell me thats the rules whatever its not a mistake if i comment COOL

i always comment a nice comments on photos for guys who posted the links and iam sure there is no one said anything about me becuase all of them was returning the likes and comment at the end i dont care if you keep me on the group or you removed me since its doesnt matter because it just waste of time

i just wanted to tell what is the groups you are selling, its a bullshit only like4like, comment4comment, thats it :) and not that much of perfect accounts on the group

Your saying it's a bad group and all people do is like and comment yet that is what an engagement group is for. Seriously stop embarrassing yourself.

Are there limits of how many accounts you can promote, grow or advertise? Some basic info would be appreciated.

I purchased 10 groups yesterday, he responded nearly instantly, I received mostly verified comments / likes. I would recommend this service to anyone who is trying to build their social presence. If you use this method in combination with free engagement groups, you have the possibility of displaying on the "explore" page. I got instant results :)

This is my review after ~1 month in a one group. He will probably ban me out today because of this.

In group there are 30 people. From this 30 people 8 are verified (with that blue check).

From this 30 people I normally get 2-5 likes and 1-3 comments (1 from verified which is probably the only active)

From this 30 people only 5 people are active. Others just post on group "I have new post, comment and like" and never do anything.

Is it worth $25? No.
