Thread: *NEW FREE Spyral Scanner New Fast Scan Engine Beta Version *FREE

SpyralScanner - May 8, 2018, 5:45 pm

We just released our new scanner engine (100% NO DISTRIBUTION)

Beta version is FREE!

<https://spyralscanner.com>

EbonCipher - May 8, 2018, 5:56 pm

works nicely, pretty fast as well. Great work spyral!.

ashwathama - May 9, 2018, 3:51 am

Nice work, since VirusCheckMate is down this seems the best alternative for now. Scans the files pretty fast, I like the interface too.

Whyn - May 9, 2018, 6:01 am

Glad to see an alternative up for an ACTUAL no distribute scanner!!

Interface is great, nice and straightforward. Drop file in and scan away.

I did a regular scan of a basic crypted file which worked all the way through. Then I did a scan of a zipped file of the same crypted file that's binded and encountered a timeout on the first scan, followed by another scan which the results are here

<https://spyralscanner.com/result/id/3X960DDD02> (EDIT: I notice that bytes listed is 0 on this scan, but actual file is 2.46MB. Not sure if it's just because byte size hasn't been implemented yet)

Posting to keep tabs on development. Very interested to see when other AV's get added and will test again.

Awesome job SpyralScanner!!!! Would rep you if I could!!

Cyber Coder - May 9, 2018, 6:29 am you should leave this version with less avs for free , and make a paid version with more avs, great job !

Hi,

There was a problem with upload limit. It has been increased to 20 MB, try to scan your file again.

Thanks for using our services.

verynice scanner
i hope u will have free ver and paid
+ paypal method pay etc

kammi321 - May 9, 2018, 7:33 am

The scanner doesn't seems to work anymore. Please check it. Also when i am scanning on your website why does it says virustotal.com in my resource monitor? <http://prntscr.com/jfpkfg> please explain. Because i closed every application and in firefox when i opened your website and scanning began it was connecting to virustotal.com not sure why. Maybe something is wrong from my end not sure.

We had over 30 scan requests at once, so server slowed down. We are working on fixing the problem.

Virustotal? We are using CLI scanners, nothing to any other scanning site even other site. That is your problem only.

This is why scanner cannot be free when all avs will be ready.

Alright I was worried for a moment why its connecting to virustotal.com when i scan via your scanner even though there was no active application and no browser window was opened except your website. It's just strange. Can you suggest me what do i have to do to fix this virustotal.com connecting?

P.S

No, our site is not connecting to virustotal, even to any other site.

I dont know what to suggest you, that is not our issue, we have nothing with VT so please stop talking that. Our scanner is 100% No Distribute CLI Scanner. We have our own Scanning engines.

All samples are removed after scanning.

P.S. There was a DDoS attack already, even scanning is free, what to say... ?

Whyn - May 9, 2018, 8:53 am

Once paid service is up, this is $4.99 per month or what is your pricing model?

Will gladly support your hard work!!!

That is just your PC issue. You can disable VT on HOSTS file and try again.

Remove cookies and clean your PC & Browser as well.

Thanks again for the awesome service :)

A small bug I found:

After initial scanning the result page, sometimes one or two AVs are missing from the list (refreshing or clicking on the "result" link fixes this). No idea how to reproduce this bug

Also: Avast and AVG show "Clean" instead of "Scanning" and then switch to the detection

Really really Small improvisation note:

I find myself clicking on the "Spyral" in the top left alot to get back to the main site, maybe make the image clickable :)

Here is what I mean, I have never seen this detection. If I change the encryption key in the stub (so it's the wrong one) the detection goes away, I think it actually extracts my resource, decrypts it with my code and then scans it o.O

Detection is ok, DeepScan:Generic.Application.CoinMiner.1.A0F2486B

How you think extract resource and decrypt??? with which code??? How the scanner can know about your source and your code? Scanning with Ad-Aware is very fast, how that can be possible with few seconds? This is SCANTIME not RUNTIME scanner! You are joking or what? I really don't understand your point here.

No, thats exactly what I find weird, not because of your Scanner, I mean in generall. If I change a singel char in my decryption key (making it invalid) that exact same stub is FUD, but as soon as the correct Key is in the code this detection appears (No Matter what valid encryption Key I use, as Long as its valid to decrypt the payload)

(This also only happens with one specific custom xmrige build I did Yesterday, not even a Darkcomet stub gets this DeepScan detection, I mean obviously it wouldnt get the Miner one)

Which would mean the Anti Virus is using the decryption routine inside the stub and scanning the result. Can't really find anything on these DeepScan detections, I Just thought maybe you know something about them :p I'm Just gonna keep researching ?

Thanks again for the great service :)

Stop decrypting everything at once & at the same time. Decrypt it in blocks & store blocks away from each-other. You just want to make it so they can't automatically call your decrypt function on everything :-)

Those are public methods and probably detected by some. Try
<https://www.scribd.com/document/32307363/Anti-Emulation-through-TimeLock-puzzles>

Also having your program bruteforce the decryption key will help

We need to add more AVS like Norton Symantec, Dr.Web, HitmanPro, ASC, Comodo, Kaspersky, ESET NOD 32, etc... this system will be replaced with new one with a lot of improvements (user will be able to choose which av want to use for scanning, Img/Forum Code, History of scanning, etc...) yes it will be paid.

API will be available for Application only (VB.NET/C#).

Thank you for the speedy response. Another issue I would like to note is that after the latest update, even small files make the most of the AVs in the scanner time out. I was barely able to get more than 3 AVs to work. Any ideas why that might be?

Also, files with long or somewhat complex names cause the site to be rerouted to a blank page.

Hi,

Right now we have too many request on the same time, more then 30 scans in a second (200 for a minute) and our current server is too small for it.

We are moving on better server with huge capacity, which is able to respond on that requests.

All bugs will be fixed asap.

We are still close to finish new scanner engines with 30 avs. You can expect it next week.

when we can expect for the scanner to work continuously as in the last weeks it had more downtime than uptime

There was a big DDoS attack on our site (Competition, even spyral was a free), we are working on it and soon it will be up again.

The scanner remains functional, without distributing?

SpyralScanner is Anonymous and no distribute scanner! Feel free to check it.

darkannubis - February 16, 2019, 7:27 am spyral distributed I think

There is no even any proof of that because we do not distribute.

Only stupid French Crypter posted that without any proof.

Dont' post shit please.

It was on a botnet sales thread too but meh I guess.

I'll trust you for now

You don't need to trust me, you can check by yourself easy.

Use your own encryption/obfuscation and scan on spyral for several days (do not scan on any other scanner, do not share/upload file to anyone)

Detection will still be the same before you scanned that file.

We are not active from today, Spyral is here for almost 2 years. Never ever distributed any single file. All files are removed automatically after scanning.

Have a nice day.

For some reason, it only scans 11 AVs

<https://spyralscanner.net/result.php?id=zj9878zDsi>

edit: yesterday was fine.

WhatTheLeak - March 18, 2019, 4:38 am

The site seems down right now.

Edit: Seems the .net domain is active, you posted the .com domain in your first post.

Would be cool if you'd edit your post then, where it says ".com" :D

wrapmycode - April 4, 2019, 10:02 pm

nice work. Do you have any plans to add 360 vaccines?

I will not repeat myself every day.

If you think spyral distribute samples please do not use it.

Read what i post on every page here.

Done.

Cyber Coder - April 13, 2019, 10:04 am is fixed but sometimes it hangs 5 mins after the scan is complete before showing the results

do you think you are able to fix that? thanks

Proxies.tv - April 13, 2019, 10:08 am

Looks like a nice design, but a work in progress.

ric_rak - May 19, 2019, 12:12 pm

OP, only 11 AVs are being scanned as of all day today. Any update on a fix?

Edit: Is scanning with all 22 now, but is quite slow loading.
