Thread: Extract your facebook friends emails \(no software needed, no bs spam links\)

?K47 - May 10, 2018, 11:05 pm

Had a few people ask me how to do this recently so decided to just throw up a quick post on how to pull all your FB contacts email addresses and even the option to mass email them all without any 3rd party software.

What do you need?

1. A Yahoo email account.
2. Your Facebook account.
3. Log into your FB account and add your Yahoo email to it as your new account email
4. Log into your Yahoo email account (mail.yahoo.com)
5. On the left hand side under Yahoo Mail you will see 6 icons
6. Click on the 2nd icon next to the mail/inbox icon that looks like a little book (Contacts icon)
7. Then just click Facebook and all of your contacts with their login emails will list up
8. You can then check the boxes of the contacts you want to mass email, assign to a custom group, or delete in mass

Not a hack, just a useful feature that Yahoo/Facebook allow. Perfect for spamming links, spreading servers or phish pages, pulling the emails to your haters accounts & reset them (can reset some emails real easy depending on the service provider with just their basic information on their FB page, etc. I won't list all the providers that can be reset easily this way (plus I'm sure you all have your own methods for breaking into email accounts) but I will say there are quite a few that if you call in or live chat with customer service and provide their basic info and they will reset the password for you (Here's a lil hint: Try resetting an account with an aol.com or comcast.net email as those seem to ask for the least amount of information to verify you own the email and reset the password and can be done via live chat.

9. You can also just extract all of your friends Facebook account emails via MS Outlook, Yahoo CSV, Zip .VCF, etc if you want to convert it to a notepad and run through your password crackers and try your luck there.

Thx man,

I know there is some way to extract FB emails from pages/ groups etc.

Is there any similar way to do it with this yahoo method?

Doesn't work for me-- contact shows only name and no email address; could it be because they have set their privacy for email to private?

@AK47

I was hoping this works but it doesn't i added the email to the FB account but no contacts show up in yahoo contacts, last year i used the old strategy where it was not even required to add the email to fb you just connect the account with just one click but they removed that after analitica scandal, is there any other way to collect FB friends emails?

i will check your method right away, also i didn't explain myself correctly what you said is what i did, i added the yahoo email and i removed my old email so the yahoo email is the only one

Thanks for the tutorial, Highly appreciated.

Ai2242 - May 6, 2019, 6:23 am

Hey

my facebook email is already a yahoo mail

but when i go to my contacts it says
"0 contacts from Facebook"

any fix ?

Joklol - May 7, 2019, 10:04 am

So this works again? Yahoo removed like last year but is it working again?

?K47 - May 9, 2019, 3:07 am

Yes unfortunately this method is now dead...but I do have another method for pulling mass emails off facebook or other websites/social medias/forums/hacked inboxes/etc using this marketing software called Atomic Email Hunter, very easy to set up and run on specific websites with specified keywords.

Download the free trial and or crack a registered copy.

Awesome post! Coming back later to read over this more...

jetx - January 9, 2020, 5:43 am

I know that Yahoo method is dead but is there anyway to get other Fb account emails?

JamalNazamAli - January 11, 2020, 10:43 am

Thanks for the tutorial, will try this one!
