Thread: Do your parents resent you for owning anime merch?

Deany - May 11, 2018, 7:28 pm

Do you ever think your parents resent you and look down on you for owning anime merch?

"Gee, my son sure is a loser with all his anime dolls and shit"

" I wish my son was a winner "

tbh I am ashamed of spending $ on anime shit. Anime was a mistake. Change my mind.

Luckily my parents are Japanese so I'm good to go, I don't really buy much anime stuff though

Professor Pantsu - May 12, 2018, 12:27 am

I think my parents are just happy I don't spend my money on drugs.

Powder - May 12, 2018, 12:30 am

No, because I don't have any.

Caliban - May 12, 2018, 5:35 am

I have never bought any anime merch tbh

My biggest money drain was my gambling addiction that i had from 2015-2017

LordNextossal - May 12, 2018, 10:16 am

I never owned any anime merch simply because that shit is expensive asf and I am a broke dude. However when they see me watch anime they do judge and ask why do I watch a Chinese cartoon (to them all Asians are Chinese) But other than that they really don't care.

Mac - May 12, 2018, 11:06 am

Anime is a mistake my dude

Kuri - May 12, 2018, 12:07 pm

Did they leave after they found out you like anime?

?????? - May 13, 2018, 8:25 pm

My parents don't care. It's my money and I can do what I want with it.

JasperRed - May 14, 2018, 5:30 am

Yep, my dad's face when he saw me unbox a naruto model was priceless.

Lawliet - May 14, 2018, 1:08 pm

The total in $ of what I've bought in 15+ years in the weeaboo life is around $30?

Not a fan of anime merch, I waste a lot in jap food and restaurants tho...

LeBoosh - May 14, 2018, 2:25 pm

My parents call me out for just watching anime so ?

Esdese - May 14, 2018, 8:11 pm

I legit have a daki and my aunt(s) have been over and said it's really pretty and show it to my other family members ?

Targus - May 14, 2018, 11:08 pm

To my parents, it's not a matter of resentment but more of a concern that I'm shelling out so much money on a fictional figurine.. that money could have been used for better purposes, you know? Anime figurines are quite expensive in Malaysia. An average price for a figurine (RM60-100+, $15-25+) can easily fill my stomach breakfast/lunch/dinner for 2-3 weeks.

no not rly

i got my parents into those cartoons anyway so at least they understand the appeal behind some of the less trashy ones, like nge and akira:)

and sometimes i do buy cool stuff related to animays, not just dolls but i got the red kaneda akira jacket and parents thought it was actually rly nice.

izuku - May 15, 2018, 10:21 pm

I don't think my parents care. I have posters all around my room and no one has said anything

Yuikoro - May 16, 2018, 2:12 am

I don't buy anime merch; my friends buy it for me without me asking. As a result, I have three pieces of anime merch: a custom shirt, an Eli Ayase nenderoid, and a Monika (I guess that's not really anime?) key chain.

My mom thinks they're superheroes so she ended up buying me a Studio Ghibli themed lanyard lol

The Host - May 16, 2018, 1:17 pm

N1ghtm4re - May 19, 2018, 12:28 pm

I don't own any body pillows or any of that weird stuff so no lol

KRAT?S - May 20, 2018, 7:45 pm

I don't own any anime merch so I can't really tell but I've seen the way they look at me when I'm watching it. I've tried to explain that some animes can be very mature with politics and everything. The harder I try the crazier they think I am
