Nah, not saying thats what you did.

And no point in trying to prove anything graphically online, everything can be faked.

For example, if I wanted to- I could use the aforementioned method and then edit a static image of the real URL bar. And then use that to sell my sorry-ass e-books. I sure hope nobody on this forum does that ?

And here I am the kind of person who doesn't let their Paypal get more than $200 at risk of being limited.

I'd laugh my ass off at your dumbness if you get limited. Remember that Paypal is a corrupt company and they give no fucks about you.

£34,000 in PayPal.

- 1) This is a lie and you're faking PoF.
- 2) You're risking your savings here, PP will limit your shit even with a Verified Business Account.

Either one of those.
