Thread: Is this considered sales trashing?

mootrucks - May 14, 2018, 9:57 am

Ever since I've joined hackforums this guy has been calling me an imposter as i'm well known on different forums site. Anyways woke up to this on my sales thread <https://i.imgur.com/d5CUtGX.png> when i've already proven him wrong he's still continuing to post false information.

Wassup bro, in this type of predicament you have several options. Upload a video of your desktop to prove that it is actually you and put the link in your signature something like "Click here for proof that I am blah blah blah".

I think that would work. Find a screen recording program online for free or something.

Why make it so difficult for yourself? There is no need for a thread like this if you can just post proof on the thread of w/e... and just ignore him lol.

If you can prove who you are, then please do so and ignore him. After you've proven who you are, if that member continues with harassment, let me know.
