Good deal for those of you into Spotify new users only so if you have signed up before you will need to use a new email and debit/credit card, don't forget to cancel after signing up so the fuckers don't charge you again after the 3 months. ?

Or you can just buy memberships from eBay for like £1.50 a month

You can also just use one of those upgrade services here on HF. I have seen prices range from between 0.50-5$ per upgrade.

Thanks for sharing anyways :)

Wow, that's a tremendous offer. Thanks a lot, buddy, I think you're gonna take down the business for those who are selling spotify accounts.

May be useful to some; the Spotify PH offer is even cheaper.

PHP9 for 3 months = $0.20. If you have a partner over there that could take advantage of this PH offer, this is basically change money.

The Family Plan packages are also a lot cheaper in Asia.

Still $0.99 for 3 months Spotify Premium is a pretty darn good deal on itself.

Are you talking about the individual plan or the Family package?

I'm offering personal 2 months Spotify Premium accounts on other fora with another billing country; no issues at all past 6 months.

Family Plans on the other side should be "treated" with extra care, as a lot of people take advantage of it.

Well, I used a similar thing in the past. Someone sold me an American account. It worked well for a bit, then it said you're only allowed to use spotify outside your country for X days, until you return back to your country where you can use all the features of premium.

Never heard of such regulations on personal Premium plans ? Strange...

Is it possible that they only do that outside Europe (or just in the USA)? This was not a Spotify attached to a Family Plan?
