Thread: [\[Motivating Myself\] My journey on Saving \$1,500 for my dream Gaming pc! | I MADE IT!](#)

vaxton - May 16, 2018, 8:39 pm

so i cannot edit/update my old thread due to the 15 thread edit limit,so it's time to continue the countdown to my gaming pc!

It has been almost a year and i'm still trying to save $1,500 to buy my dream gaming pc. Each time i earn some money, i end up spending them on renting a gaming pc (1$/hour)

I just stopped going out from home and trying to not spend a single $ anymore just to buy it before this summer! I made this thread to motivate myself to keep working and not waste my time doing nothing.

My journey has started today, i'll post my daily earnings till i get $1,500 in total! and i'll post a video of my new gaming pc once i buy it.

Money activity:

That's not what I was asking.

I was asking for your address where you were holding the bitcoin so we could actually see you were raising funds to reach your goal. I was ready to pay the rest of it and make it reach the mark....

Kinda killed that one.

Your total received is $ 870.76 USD - if you had just kept it as bitcoin.

oww i see, i directly exchange the btc to real life money to save them.

i don't like putting all of my money online and especially in btc which is currently going down.
and yes whenever i receive btc, i directly sell them in the same day in real life.

It's at the lowest it has been in forever and your address still reads as '$871.46' received in BTC..
But your 'current money is 720$'

Hold up let me calculate how much you have received in BTC on the value you received it.

yes, because i've spend some of the money on clothes,food and internet, the money in the thread are the current money with me.

i've cashout like 300$ of the btc and the rest are pure paypal money.

btw i use coinbase and not blockchain. sometime i send and receive payments by email.

Based on the amounts you received (after fee) on the days you received it - (if cashed out within a day or two)

$940.48

Based on the amounts you received if you left it in the account and let BTC fluctuate as you saved.
$870.27

How much you have actually saved:

$720

My dude, it's called self control.

1. That's exchanging paypal to BTC not the other way around. We didn't even account for any paypal earnings/donations over the last couple weeks but if we did and you claim it's 50% then you're looking at around $1000 wasted and only $700 made.

You tell me what's going on there. Good lord. Also 'sent and received BTC many times'? There are 23 total transactions for received amounts... 10 of which are all under $20.

Dunno man, you are seriously bad with money.

Many people would tell you to fulfill your dreams, and all those things that people say. I don't want to tell you the same thing, I don't want to seem pessimistic or that I am going in opposition to you, but I assure you that if this is your big "dream" once you fulfill it, you will feel empty. I hope it's just a goal and not a big dream for you, I'm not saying that it's wrong to want a good pc, I'm just saying that this shouldn't be your big dream. If you have a void, fill it with God, not with things that don't transcend and will one day end.

I repeat, I don't want him to feel I'm going against him, that's not my goal. Nor that I try to see my religion, but that I see the one who has more value than everything.

This is probably a silly question, but I'm not familiar with "renting a pc for $1hr" we do not have that here in America. So, I was wondering what you meant by that is it like a cafe (you got to and rent "X" amount time ?). I'm assuming $1 for 1hr of internet ? Also as far as having a company building the computer for you I guess I just don't understand why you couldn't build it at your house and save some money and time? By this I mean buy the products off NewEgg / Amazon ect and just assemble it at your house. Overall, interesting post however some of the translation maybe lost for native English speakers.
