Thread: DEACTIVATED TWITTER HANDLE INQUIRY

Jwhite23 - May 20, 2018, 8:57 am

Hey Guys

Currently trying to obtain a twitter handle that has been connected to a deactivated account for more then a couple years now (0 followers and 1 follower account)

I reached out to the owner of the account years ago requesting the handle as it would be very beneficial to my social media presence to have the same user handle on all social media accounts making it easier to locate while providing my brand with professional uniformity. Instead of changing the user name the owner deactivated the account thinking that would free the twitter handle but it didn't and thats why I'm here today after years of running into the same brick wall.

Over time when I tried to change my user name to the one I desired it says "User Name not available" as it is attached to a deactivated account compared to "User Name is already taken" as attached to an active account. Even reached out to twitter stating my case as the name has been inactive for going more then 3 years to no avail.

Will pay for the Twitter User Handle in question. Please PM as it would be a major help!

Just following up per request above
