Sadly scammed again by this guy cloaked in gleaming reviews. I can only put it to that as I have no idea what really happened except for the following:

- 1) Approached him via PM from another thread he posted on for offering services
- 2) Spoke and agreed on everything and all went well and paid him his deposit of $200 and when password is delivered another $200 (which he never got
- 3) Time went on and delays and more problems came up
- 4) Eventually offered to be a middle man and pay the $200 to someone else to get the password as he couldn't get it
- 5) Became distant with replies as I plied on the pressure and eventually said the other person he paid my deposit to didn't manage
- 6) Story know is he can't give me my cash back as it is with them and it wasn't part of the deal
- 7) Does not reply back now and it's been two months

I don't really know if any of this happened but gut feeling he screwed me, don't fall victim positive reviews mean shit.

Proof:

I'm sorry I don't have proof of my messages with him as these are now cleared on skype but wouldn't make the effort to type this up here for nothing just want people to be made aware of what's going on.

Bandors if you read this, would appreciate any resolution to this problem.

'Gleaming reviews'? Did you not notice the countless negative reputation he has and his previous deal disputes? I'm sorry but you won't get anything back unless you nag him constantly day after day. Best of luck.

I had been scammed by him as my group leader (illuminati) for $80
I made a thread with the title being 'Got scammed $80 by my own group leader Bandors'

Once it gets more attention than he likes, and the reputation damage isn't worth the $$ - he'll refund you don't have high hopes

Just because he doesn't have chat logs doesn't mean the offense shouldn't be looked into, especially if the offender has previous deal disputes. It's not right to take advantage of someone, and he should be punished if he has done so, but if the accuser is lying, then he should be the one who is punished.

What looking into is there to do? Either people believe him or dont. Also there won't be any punishment itsMeCherry - May 23, 2018, 3:06 am

I just find it weird bandors never makes an appearance in these threads.

TUK93 - May 23, 2018, 4:22 pm

Thank you everyone for the support and replies!

Have forum experience before but not in this sector, learnt my lesson the hard way it's a scammers paradise that requests page, with a good few eggs nestled among the bad ones but it's the posters duty to check feedback before going ahead. Sometimes like me out of desperation it gets to you and the benefit of the doubt overtakes and then this happens!

Let's see what comes up

VelocityMach - November 4, 2018, 11:59 am

Who the hell is still doing business with Bandors? It's 100% proven he's a scammer.
