Thread: Phat Xbox 360 Xenon

Hello all,

I got this phat Xbox 360 xenon from my colleague who didn't know what to do with it, now I want to be able to play retrogames on this console like Sega Megadrive, Supernintendo maybe Playstation 1, 2 etc. It seems this is made possible with emulators but first you have to adjust things on your motherboard.

After reading a little about glitches I understand that this Xenon version does not function well when you Jtag or Rgh it and some even write that it is not possible to jtag this version motherboard.

So is it even possible to do this on the xenon?

Can someone help me in the right direction?

Thanks in advance!

dash 7371 and bellow ONLY!!!!

yes xenon's, can be jtagged if you have a compatible xbox look up the xenon wiring jtag digram, i did a install the other day on a xenon

RGH will not work on xenons they only work on zepthers,falcons,jaspers(All Hdmi) unless you have one with i think a Taiwan cpu then rgh 1.2 can be installed
