Thread: What makes you browse Hackforums?

o??ervan? - May 22, 2018, 5:06 pm

Well, honestly I joined Hackforums back in 2012 to learn to hack. Then I lost my interests as I was scared of the consequences. Since then I kept browsing Hackforums just because of the community.

What about you? Tell me something I don't know ?

Who Soup - May 22, 2018, 5:17 pm

Mainly here for business savvy and only a handful of members

CYB3RM4N - May 22, 2018, 5:19 pm

The threads and drama here can get entertaining.

Also, the majority of the community is pretty cool. I wish I was one of the cool guys. ?

Marketplace and business.

Mr. Robot - May 22, 2018, 5:49 pm

I use the forum to brainstorm.

Hf is my test/control group.

Neodraxis - May 22, 2018, 5:52 pm

Just my interest towards forums ever since I've joined them.

HackForums being one of the largest makes me feel it's here to stay. Unlike the ones I've been on in the past that were just owned by money-hungry admins who never updated their site, etc.

SIM-3558566 - May 22, 2018, 6:00 pm

Learning new things, buying methods, making money. It's also fun to browse a bit.

Chomped - May 22, 2018, 6:01 pm

I honestly like the opportunity to learn stuff on here. Being at a young age I am always browsing in hopes to expand my knowledge. So far the past year and a half I have succeeded in this in unbelievable ways and hope to continue it!

It just brings me comfort that my IQ is that of a snail and everyone here are my intellectual equals here.

Frankey - May 22, 2018, 11:32 pm

I browse the website because of this user.

For real though, I just like reading discussions in the lounge and share creative things. The drama is also a huge part of why I like HF.
