Description:

I contacted the user to get net setup on his host. I was low in bitcoin, so I paid him $100 to get the host setup and stuff. Then would have paid him later for smoke loader. He took the money and has not responded since. User had been doing this kind of thing with others too, just check his sales thread.

So I pay for your hosting, (95$) and you ask for refund AFTER it's paid for.

firstly its $100, I specially said "your" hosting, also you don't reply on discord. The same has been going with few users on your sales thread. Do you really want me to believe you are legit? Give me my money back
