During the period a username Named Fjux with UID 28708 contacted me for purchasing the second copy of method . And as i was Closed here i had to go down and give him extended verification of my services on teamviewer and i guess he recorded the session and also say my skype contacts and took screen shots which he is using to scam other members Really sad how desperate people can be. This scum is probably running around here on a new account too.

Stay safe people.

Yes he is here already, he was knowing i got post-banned which happend after his account was closed.

he tried scamming users today aswell

But i think users are also at fault if they fell for an LEAKED version of method.
