Thread: [\[DWC\] Arrow - uid=3219759 || Super sketchy, avoid dealing with.](#)

Elmo. - May 28, 2018, 9:02 am

Got contacted earlier by this guy here called Arrow. He said he wanted 785$ PayPal for 675$ btc i said alright. He then proceeds to ask for a middleman for our deal and asks if we could use either Minimalist or this random dude called Mysterious as a middleman. Turns out that this Mysterious dude is 242rep uber and is actually Arrow's friend.

The reason why i'm doing this dwc thread is because this guy is just trying to dodge completely my request that i would do the transaction with him in parts and 150$ a part and i would go first.

This would be a community alert, not a deal dispute.

Nonetheless, it will probably be moved.

Why not just go with his other option of choosing Mini as your middleman?

If anyone wants the full convo I can give it. This guy is a weirdo I got my deal done with someone that actually has funds and wanted to use mm.

And I wasn't trying to scam or do anything bad my friend wants to become a middleman he has been true for 2 years but if you don't have a lot of 10 year old dick riders you can't become a mm

Learn the difference between a DD and a Community Alert. Arrow has always been legit. The fact you won't use Minimalist as a MM is sketchy enough. This thread just makes you seem like a joke. Goodbye.

Bro you already sketchy af for not using a middleman. Minimalist was also an option. Community alert should be on you not Arrow.

He wants to go first and do half's I don't do that I use a trusted mm this one time I tired to use my friend to hopefully get him started on being a trusted mm.

Yeah I don't understand why he made this when he was the one refusing to do the safe route

And just want to point out that I could care less if I was the MM for this deal. I wasn't even aware of it at first. And OP, just because I had 242 rep doesn't mean shit. Trusted goes by the person and not numbers on a forum. I get that I didn't do enough deals on here for people to see me for who I am but rep is a number and I know my own place. He offered Minimalist as an alternative in which you decided to not do as well.

Even if you were going first in increments, Arrow could have still scammed you $150. I'm not at all saying that he would ever do that (I know he wouldn't) but you yourself would still be taking a risk. He just wanted to do the full amount with a MM you BOTH agreed on. If it was with Mini, there wouldn't have been a risk. Next time you should man up and actually reply on this thread instead of neg repping because you got a hissy fit. But that's all up to you, I really don't care. The situation is neutral now.

if ya'll don't get off this thread sucking each other off if it's invalid, it's invalid and if you've never had a problem before this shouldn't stop you
