I keep getting this message:

HackForums.net has banned your IP due to excessive queries to our site. The block is temporary and you may not be able to access our site for up to 24 hours from this IP. Triggers may include opening multiple pages in different tabs or persistent page refreshing. Please make adjustments to your browsing habits to avoid being rate-limit banned. Thank you.

Whenever trying to view someone's profile but all other features work.

It will last 24 hours. Read the other recent threads in this section.

You might using a userscript or extension that creates additional requests

This has been happening to me just use a VPN and don't open as many tabs (Found It triggered the warning when I opened a few tabs). This Is a way to mitigate an attack should hopefully be over soon just got to stick It out for now.

Same issue here. I browsed 3 or 4 pages on HF Wiki, did some searches and got banned from both wiki and main site. But I can access HF from my cellphone since IP is changed.

The message you get is explaining everything.. no need for a thread haha

SIM-3558566 - June 3, 2018, 8:54 am

I had the issue, but it went away yesterday. Just browsing HF and viewing people's profiles got me the limit again. So now I'm stuck on it again unfortunately.

ZuGgY - June 3, 2018, 8:58 am

Haven't got this message at this time, although it has happened in the past. Hm...interesting.

Ninja™ - June 3, 2018, 9:21 am

Same happening with me.

Cant seem to view anyone's profile.

Surprised you didn't know this yet, tbh as it was discussed in the XMPP, it's been like this for multiple days with around 10-15 threads about it (mostly in this section) along with the fact that the message kind of explains it.

If you searched or even read this section for a minute, you would have got your answer.
