Thread: Old Style Thread Design

Weebex - June 2, 2018, 2:30 pm

Honestly I miss seeing these kinds of thread designs. This one isn't as flashy as the other ones people made. I haven't seen any of these being made from designers in the marketplace since the modern flat style is the norm nowadays. I'm no expert in graphics, so post your criticisms and thoughts below.

It's a bit old looking but me too I miss it sometimes ^^

With a much of 3D, lighting and reflecting effects.

It is like for the clothing : Ther is always a period for some new designs etc...

I think today there is put more importance on the colors and what the eye sees. The flat design is much more readable than this old-school design.

Ps: In webdesign it's quite the same haha

Cheers

You have done an amazing job, I have not seen a style like this in a long time it's really clean. On another forum they still use these designs for stressers

Golden Daff - June 3, 2018, 3:04 pm

Very oldschoool but that doesn't make it bad. Considering you've said you're no expert, this is pretty good!

this looks good and i dont find it old style.

Good work.
