Thread: Why should we buy making money eBooks?

7BOZZ7 - June 3, 2018, 6:45 am

Hello my friends!

I will make it as short as possible.

I bought about 5-7 eBooks here on HF and only two of them corresponded to the ideas of the owners (Vyrez and Riyu) and they also brought me some real money. Everyone else would had like "Affiliate marketing" which is absolute (sorry for the wording) bullshit. So I ask you, why should we buy eBooks here or what should we buy? Thanks for your help and please only serious answers where you already had experience. (Not something like sonexs method)

Best regards

Honestly, I would say 90% of the money making ebooks don't work and are just regurgitated information. I'm sure there are one or two that actually work, but majority have no idea what they are talking about. They either purchase an ebook, reword it a little bit and then resell it, or just come up with a bogus method that will make you $1.50. I've purchased ebooks in the past and have never had any luck. It's the ones that say "make $1,000 a day now" or "learn how I made $500k at the age of 15" that you definitely need to stay away from, because they are the plague.

I don't really have a recommendation on purchasing ebooks, but if I were you, I wouldn't buy the money making methods. You can most likely find all of the same methods on Google for free. I would look into maybe even mentoring, where you actually work with them each step of the way, but again, even that could be a risk because I don't know of many people here that know what they're talking about.

The only reason to buy ebooks here is to make the seller gain more money.

The "make $1000 a day" are usually semi-bullshit, I've made $1000 in a day, but the process wasn't repeatable every day, for example, and sometimes it was plain luck.

I'd stay away, develop some critical thinking and come up with your own methods, read some books, learn about sales, these are universal skills you can use for anything, or even any job!

If its a free ebook, or a very cheap one, its not worthwhile. Plain and simple, easy as that.

But people don't want to invest in good, well-priced methods because they don't want to put up the money. But the reality is, the more expensive it is, the better quality and less saturated.

Scared money don't make money.

I would not recommend money making ebooks.

I'd recommend books on:

- Financial education
- self help, betterment and such
- Book that teach you skills

You shouldn't. Almost everyone on hackforums will tell you not to buy ebooks, it's a waste of money and trust me, most don't even work. Also if it says you will receive a refund if it doesn't work, you won't, simple as that.

I disagree with you on "I've made $1000 in a day, but the process wasn't repeatable every day, for example, and sometimes it was plain luck."

When you own an online business such as:Services / Programs

Shopify stores

Digital marketing agency

Runescape Gold shops

You get paid every single day on a consistent level. Businesses generally do not die overnight, and if your business makes on average $1000/day, on a bad day you might earn $800, while on a good day you might earn $1200.

Your business will not be built on "luck".

I appreciate the kind words.

Side note: I'm one of the few members that actually make a full time income online with the same methods they sell.

Actually, I know Shopify and how others earn very good money with it. AND THAT IS THE PROBLEM. The competition is high so someone like me has small chances to be successful in this part. So I need something new that is "unsaturated".

I also have one method how to earn real good money, so there are 2 options for me.

- 1.) I sell it (very low chances of success)
- 2.) I search for one partner with big money that wants to earn with me (low trust)

Yea.

A method that requires too much investment is usually a massive red-flag. I've seen ideas with 0 funding for from 0 to 100 real quick, and others, no matter how much money gets pumped into them never materialize.

It's too easy to say lack of money is the issue(that's what gamblers say), bootstrap your way up.

I like the way you think.

Real hustlers succeed in making money online because they work smart. They find ways to start at the bottom and scale up.

The real method is selling the method...

Wise words ^ :o

OP - Simple answer, you shouldn't be buying them. I mean if you believe a $15 e-book will tell you the secrets of getting rich, well that's your own fault. Most of the time their epic xx unsaturated methods are copy pasted general stuff about CPA or online marketing and such.

Respect to people with quality content, keep up the good works =)
