Thread: Who closes the bus door when the bus lady gets off?

Enzio - June 3, 2018, 7:11 pm

Like is there a button they press so that the door can only be unlock from the inside?

I would imagine that the doors can just be opened without the having to push the buttons. At least that's how the buses at school work.

There Is an emergency button on the outside of the Bus you can press to open and close the doors.

typically they use rat semen, since the chemicals in it naturally react to jello to form a green exterior

They have a way to disengage the hydraulics and then lock it with a key Correct, bus lady sounds like a lady who is on a bus. If it were a male driver you wouldn't call him bus man, well I wouldn't.
