Hello everyone, a simple google search "hacking forums" has led me here (yes I am that simple). I'm currently no one with nothing to my name. However, I'm faced with a situation in serious need of "hacking" skills concerning over (200) thousand accounts. The digital law of my country is not willing to help me and I'm looking to regain something that was took from good people and I want to help them, but I do not ask for your involvement nor for illegal/unethical hacking, I simply want to repay a few scumbags that just because they know a few tricks, it doesn't mean they're as "Godly" as they think they are.

What I ask for is a push in the right direction and a list of my options, tools, coding, software and required knowledge. I have nothing to offer but if there's anyone who's willing to help, send me a message and I'd be grateful.
