Thread: Can anyone put me in touch with DragonHunter/AnguisCaptor?

I used to talk to the guy occasionally but it seems like he quit HF. I need his expertise on a specific task and I was wondering if anyone can put me in touch with him.

Not sure, but he deleted his GitHub account after I linked his LiteCode repository in a thread not too long ago. Kinda frustrated as I did not save his Secure Socket Protocol and LiteCode projects. And archive.org does not have it archived.

Try using this website: <http://www.cachedpages.com> google cache usually has it saved although it might take some time to assemble the entire project.

You will still have to manually assemble the projects and hope that google has all the source code you need stored.
