Thread: Amazon FBA Mastermind | \$0->\$8K+ First Month - Limited Availability

mvmt - June 7, 2018, 3:50 pm

SPOTS HAVE RE-OPENED FOR AUGUST! ONLY 3 SPOTS LEFT

If you've been keeping up with my threads, I've been involved in Amazon FBA for a couple months now. After picking up a few clients off-site and seeing high interest in my PMs, I've decided to open up an Amazon FBA mentorship program. For those who are unfamiliar with what Amazon FBA is, you are purchasing products from wholesalers and sending them to Amazon's warehouses. Your items are then listed on Amazon for anyone to buy, and anytime you get a sale Amazon will automatically ship the products for you and cover shipping for free as well as handle all customer support. You simply pay fees for each sale you get and the profit is yours.

FOR THOSE WHO ARE ON THE BORDER ABOUT THIS: Now is the perfect time to get started. Summer has just begun which is already a great time for online sales, not only that but by starting now you will be established for when the holiday season comes around. During the holidays, sales can easily double or triple each day. Keep this in mind when considering purchasing this mentorship.

What you will be learning through the course of this mentorship: How to do product research, which products you should sell and which you shouldn't

Setting up your listing

Optimizing your listing to increase sales

How to set up and manage PPC campaigns

How to advertise in untapped markets outside of the Amazon marketplace

Getting your listing ranked quicker and kickstarting sales

How to increase reviews on your product

Much more

This mentorship will last for a total of 2 months. The first month will consist of learning how to do product research, finding your first product, getting your listing ready and your inventory reaching Amazon's warehouses. The 2nd month will consist of learning how to kickstart your initial sales, managing ad campaigns and getting reviews. From there you will have enough knowledge to branch off on your own and continue expanding your store into several products. You can see my previous earnings here: <https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=5833794>

Things to keep in mind: This is not some simple ebook that outlines a few steps on how to make money. I will be working with you 1 on 1 everyday teaching you everything hands-on. By working with me, not only get the knowledge I've acquired but also my personal experiences from the mistakes I've made and how to avoid them.

This will require work, however the potential of a business like this is limitless. I know several people making 6 figures per month selling on Amazon, some have even expanded further into 7 figures. By staying consistent and not giving up after a day because you're lazy, with my help you can reach these heights as well.

Don't expect to be making $10k+ in a week, no one ever got rich by being lazy and not putting in the work. Making 5 figures per month within 1-2 months is VERY possible, but you aren't going to get there by not doing shit.

I will only be hosting 5 spots PER MONTH. There will be 3 different options to choose from, each with their own pricing and features. Regardless of which option you choose, I will only have 5 spots.

They are likely to fill up fast so I advise not waiting around, it is first come first serve.

Option 1 - $650

- Start to finish mentorship, access to me through Skype/Discord

Option 2 - $850

- Start to finish mentorship, access to me through Skype/Discord, mentorship over untapped marketing advertising to drastically boost sales, free access to $1,500+ worth of paid content

Option 3 - $1,500

- Start to finish mentorship, access to me through Skype/Discord, mentorship over untapped market advertising, free access to $1,500+ worth of paid content, I will provide 1 product that you can immediately start with

- The reason why this is so much compared to Option 1 is because of the product I'm immediately giving you to start selling. This is hours and hours of product research and has the potential to make you thousands per month right off the bat without having to do any research on your own.

Contact me to reserve your spot. Whoever pays me first will have their spot reserved, it is not based on who PM's me first.

FAQ

Spoiler (Click to View)

Can this be done worldwide?

Yes. You aren't actually touching any of the products. No matter where you're from, you'll be shipping directly to Amazon's warehouses in the US.

How much can I make from this and how long?

You can make $0 from your product or $20k+ per month from your product, it highly depends. You can expect to see consistent sales coming in around 1 week after your product goes live, from there it's all about growth and scaling into a higher ad budget.

How much money do I need to start with?

I recommend around $500-$800. This will cover your inventory, the various investments for listing optimization, and the other tools needed.

Vouch for Fade. I can guarantee this service is of the highest quality and I urge anyone to give it a try :)

Pronouncer - June 7, 2018, 3:52 pm

This seems really good, vouch for fade might have to cop it

Minus9 - June 7, 2018, 3:55 pm

I've previously worked with Fade closely on a day to day basis and can vouch that he inherits the knowledge both in terms of business and Amazon wise. He'll be able to help you and usually has a very clear and professional way to assist you in any matter.

I wish you the best of luck with your students.

Meow - June 7, 2018, 3:56 pm

Wow.. very nicely written thread. While I cannot vouch for this mentorship (since I haven't purchased it) I can definitely vouch for Fade and his knowledge in various subjects, from Amazon, Shopify to more "easier" money making methods.

I wouldn't hesitate purchasing this one bit if I were you, you can go thru Fade's threads and you'll see that everything he sells is legit, vouched and, obviously, working.

Best of luck selling this! ?

It actually is possible to purchase your inventory with crypto. You can also use PayPal or a card

The people I've been mentoring offsite haven't progressed far enough to actually have earnings yet. All I have is the link to my previous thread showcasing my earnings. However with the resources I provide, it's pretty easy to gauge whether your first product will be successful or not. Assuming you can find a product correctly, which with my help you will, the "worst case scenario" means you slowly sell out of your inventory over a month two to recoup your original investment + some profit.

I'm not gonna say it's impossible to get literally 0 sales, but it would be pretty damn hard if you followed my instruction lol spiral - June 9, 2018, 8:34 am

Just wondering, what are the potential earnings for this method?

mvmt - June 9, 2018, 10:13 am

(Jun 9, 2018 08:34 AM)spiral. Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) Just wondering, what are the potential earnings for this method?

You could be earning a few thousand a month or into 5 digits a month, per product. It highly depends on the product you find and how much you can scale it. There are some products that even do upwards for $80k-100k per month, but obviously it would take several months to scale that high. But if you can achieve well into 5 digits from just 1 product, you can see how the earnings will pile up once you've scaled to 5-10 products total.

MaxoKream - June 9, 2018, 10:49 am

To be quite honest Amazon fba profit margins are usually very low due to all the fees amazon takes for fulfillment and storage. I am assuming a customer would need to buy at least $3k+ worth of inventory to send to amazon before even seeing a profit since the margins only span from 1-10% profit per unit sold.

mvmt - June 9, 2018, 11:16 am

Sorry but that is incredibly wrong. My first product cost me less than $2 per unit including shipping, I sold for around $17 and FBA fees were roughly $5-6 per sale. If your profit margins are 1-10% then you're just picking shitty products.

Low-priced items have low-margins for several reasons.

1. It's easier to source and there are more people who has a smaller budget than a bigger budget. More competition lowers the price.
2. Fulfillment takes most of the money from you.
3. You can still source items at a relatively low price yet sell them for a satisfactory margin due to your establishment in the market by providing better and more professional all-round listing. Which means, professional copywriting, photography etc.

Fulfillment for the under $2 product is like 3 times more cost than the product itself. It's just how it is. But that doesn't mean a low-cost product cannot give you a good margin. It can depend on several factors, some products are so low priced but so expensive for fulfillment due to the size of the product which takes room in an Amazon warehouse.

In the end, the ones that make the most is and always will be Amazon. And that's for a reason.

About a month ago I was gonna purchase an FBA course online but Fade offered to mentor me and the info he provides completely blows away these shitty courses. My first product just reached Amazon's warehouses and Fade already set up a plan for me to get ranked within a few days. I'll make some posts in the future to update everyone but this is WELL worth the money considering once I get this going I'll easily be able to scale to 5-6 digits per month.

I have products I've already done research on that I can provide, these are products I would sell myself but obviously I can't sell every single product I come across that's considered good. I can show the product statistics beforehand, as well as give you the profit margin and tell you where to contact the supplier. I'm not providing some random shitty product that won't sell, only products that fit my certain criteria that I would sell myself.

I though I might as well write a few more words regarding Fade and his skills; I was doing something similar to FBA (but more like dropshipping, it's hard to explain) and Fade gave me 2-3 products that literally made me thousands at that time.

And those products were very unique, something I would never thought of it myself.

It can if you want to go for a more expensive product, but that obviously isn't required (or recommended for newer sellers). The range I give is to cover all your startup costs for your 1st product and you might even end up with a little bit to spare. I wanted to be on the higher end of the spectrum just so people are prepared if to spend that much if necessary.

I've only just purchased fade's mentorship program nine days ago but we've made tremendous progress since then and I am very excited to say that i have found my first product. This product is grossing between 10-15k so I am hoping to do around that. Fade's insight and expertise was absolutely critical to finding this product and I've learned so much in the last week that i feel this mentorship is truly invaluable. If you want to begin making money on the internet with scalable business ventures, then look no further. Put in the work and this mentorship will reward you, I believe.

Some questions:

- 1) How much time will this require on a weekly basis? Is this viable as a side hustle?
- 2) Is there an age requirement?
- 3) Can I do this anywhere in the world?
- 4) Will it eventually be possible to make a comfortable passive income?

Mazak82 - August 2, 2018, 2:50 am

Purchased option 3 - got a lot of materials to go through and will be starting everything in the next few days.

Pretty excited about this and I'll keep posting updates in this thread as we go along. Right now everything looks good.

Sent you a PM but I'll answer on here as well for everyone to see:

1. Once everything is up and running, you can expect to spend 2-3 hours per week managing everything. The only time consuming part is the setup, which has no time requirement and can be done on your own time. But once everything is up and running, it's mostly autopilot other than a few aspects you must monitor and make small changes to.
2. The account holder must be over the age of 18, if you are underage then you can simply have a parent or friend open the account for you.
3. Absolutely!
4. 100%, selling on Amazon can be much more than passive income, for some it's a full time business. I know a few people doing well over $300,000 PER MONTH on Amazon. If you wanna scale it that big, it's very well possible.

Hello,

I've two little question :

Ur screenshot from the other thread.

The 8000 or 2100 dollars is from a product u sell no? But what's is ur real profit? (because if u buy product + pay ad+ %fix for amazon...)

Can u create a market with for exemple shopify or woocommerce and add ur own product send by amazon?

I'm really interest by works with u, but i need to really understand how is works.

Profit margin is roughly 50-60% but it depends on what product you're selling. And yes, that's one of the great features about Amazon is that you can utilize their FBA service while still selling your product through other markets like Shopify/WooCommerce/etc.

i have decided to ball out and purchase option 3, I will steadily be doing this (as I dont understand the few users who have purchased this but have been lazy... why would you drop minimum $650 and not do anything w/ the mentorship? Money doesn't grow on trees) ... and will try to post results for everyone so everyone can have a LEGIT review of Fade's service. I am in no means friends with this cunt (lul jk) but he will now be mentoring me about Amazon FBA. I hope to make some bands, and I hope I can give this an honest review and let everyone know it is worth the price.

My review will be unbiased, and legit.

I will keep everyone updated, and I am happy to be working w/ fade :)

I just wanted to post here with an update; the manufacturers have shipped my product and my listing will hopefully be live by next week. Tremendous vouch for Fade as he has been ABSOLUTELY INSTRUMENTAL in every step of this process.

No doubt, if you want to break into the FBA game and don't know where/how to start, Fade is your man. This service is undervalued imo.
