Are you about to do a deal with a user, but feel like he has bad intentions? Does the deal seem to good to be true? Then you should use my middle man service. I will take the risk out of any transaction.

My middle man service is simplistic and free, and it works in 4 simple steps:

Step 1: The customer sends payment to me.

Step 2: The seller sends the product to the buyer.

Step 3: The Buyer confirms that he got what he was promised.

Step 4: The seller receives the payment from me.

I will be giving advice with every transaction, such as methods on how to keep accounts from being taken back.

I will NOT middle man any transaction involving PayPal.

Want to use this service or have questions about it, post below or PM me.
