Thread: How R3KT was affected

Carl Elias - June 12, 2018, 1:35 am

I know about the Rep reset, and I know I was no where close to the requirements for R3KT but I am curious how the Rep reset affected it.

Will the requirements for R3KT stay at 1000 Rep or will it change? Will the group be reset as well? Will the group be affected by the new B-Ratings/Contracts as a requirement???

I think I know the answer but I wanted to see what the official word on this is

Steve our friend just answered this question.

(Jun 12, 2018 12:56 AM)Steve Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) The current requirements for REKT are:1,000 posts

1,000 reputation

1,000 days since registration

The plugin functions such that you will not be removed from REKT unless manually by Omniscient, so those who are currently REKT will stay REKT. For those who are not REKT, they will have to meet the above requirements. The requirements have not been changed to adjust for the differences in accumulating reputation.

Everything here is subject to change at anytime without notice. These are simply the current requirements.

So far, requirements are the same.

Currently the members who've had R3KT before the reset, still retain it.
i.e. Armada, Raymond Reddington etc. still have it.

It's almost like "once you're R3KT, you stay in R3KT"

EDIT: Smh, could've expected that there'll be more responses once I've posted this.

I know it basically says you keep it forever unless Omni removed it. I just was wondering if there are plans to change it or if they are going to stay the same, and better yet, will the B-Ratings be factored in somehow (like you must have a positive ratio of negative to positive rating -> more positive than negative?

I assume it'll depend on reputation as B-Ratings don't exactly form any criteria for R3KT. R3KT is mostly related as the usergroup with powers to +4 rep, B-Ratings are more like a track of each transaction on-site within the Marketplace.

Doubt it'll change but it all depends on Omni/Xer and their decisions.

There is a chance that REKT will change, but if it does it will have nothing to do with Contracts. Omniscient has not yet decided to change REKT or not.

That's the best you'll get for the time being.

I almost had REKT, but I guess that's for another few years.

Truth - June 12, 2018, 1:48 am

Yea since rep is less restricted and can be bought in the hundreds for cheap. I would hope its changed

Sick - June 12, 2018, 1:48 am

I'm lucky enough to still have mine

So i will + 4 REP anyone who REPS me

What's the point of creating additional threads on this matter when I already posted this?

I wasn't reading every thread and was only looking for key words R3KT and changed or similar so I didn't click on your thread saying what is going on with it.

There are so many rep related threads right now so I just passed that thread ? I noticed after Mr. Kewl quoted Steves post, but I was more interested in if it is possible down the road to see if B-Ratings will be added as a determining factor or not
