Thread: Negative Rep Unable to post in Marketplace

?Arrow-? - June 12, 2018, 6:59 am

When the rep thing first started I saw everyone was asking for positive rep so I decided I would ask for negative as a joke,

I've now seen someone with negative rep is unable to post in the marketplace section. In my opinion, since rep doesn't mean much in terms of legitimacy or being vouchable anymore having negative rep shouldn't ban you from the marketplace.

this is how its always been. its your decision to follow this bullshit -rep trend so dont cry because you made a stupid decision and wanted to go down that route.

Lmao you need to calm down mate, not crying at all. I think it's just silly to have negative rep dictate marketplace posting when the entire reason for this rep thing was because of the new marketplace B rating. So with the new B Rating at place specifically made for the Marketplace, shouldn't that or nothing at all have something to do with it instead?
