Thread: Business Rating Minimum

sssniwerwolf - June 12, 2018, 12:32 pm

I see people selling reputation in the marketplace and they are getting business reputation for it. Some people have 10, 20, even 30 completed transactions already for only $0.30. There should be a limit like in the Free services and giveaways, $5 minimum per rating. Just a suggestion thanks.

Juffar - June 12, 2018, 12:33 pm

I think this is a great suggestion because if it continues like this the B-rating will end up like the old/normal/w.e reputation system.

wit - June 12, 2018, 12:34 pm

the b system is already fucked

for $1 you can get 20+ positive B reps

You should also expect a ban then for abusing the system.

Am pretty sure.

Been offline today.

Wont last long like this. I imagine some accounts will be closed by the time Omni sees what's going on. This is blatant abuse of the new system

luke - June 12, 2018, 12:40 pm

I truly agree with this, already sent a PM to Xerotic about it. People are completely misusing the system which ruins it for genuine currency exchangers and marketplace users.

Uriel - June 12, 2018, 12:41 pm

I think this is a little tough for people who sell premium accounts though. Mainly because they do many transactions for small amounts, but some people like exchangers handle a lot more money. But I believe Omni created a minimum price for such accounts didn't he?

Eagle 95 - June 12, 2018, 12:42 pm

It's okay to test it for once when you were selling/buying rep today but from now on, most probably it's going to be much stricter.

I believe premium accounts (unless they're $10+) shouldn't be able to be listed in the B-Rating system. Otherwise, again, people would buy $0.05 accounts and so on.

Don't worry too much. I'm just giving members the rope to hang themselves.

There are rules about the minimum price for accounts.

Was that an Inspector Calls reference?

Or have GCSEs gotten into me too far

JoshAllen - June 12, 2018, 1:55 pm

I know you probably don't mean literally $10+ when you are talking about people selling accounts for 5 cents.

But it's actually very common in the marketplace to be buying/selling accounts under $10.

EDIT: Checked the NFA section, and it is $1.

I was also referring to the online account sections like OG's and stats.

I think this rule is more than fine. as is.

Lmao, at least it's good you've been revising for your exams

Which quotation was that?

Elitas - June 12, 2018, 2:11 pm

Hmm, some fair points have been raised.

WHAT IF, the B rating system was instead a figure. A dollar amount which has been verified to be successfully traded.

If they get a negative amount, the dollar value of the transaction is removed. Just thinking, this will prevent account sellers from accidentally abusing the system.

It was said by Sheila. My interpretation of it was that she is warning the Birlings and Gerald about the inspector knowing everything, and ultimately leading them into a dead end in which they will be forced to condemn themselves.

GCSEs are nearly over :D did English a couple of weeks ago but it's still in my head Contracts is not enabled in that forum. So you won't be able to do TID linking.

It's likely that I'm going to give weight to deals over a certain amount and maybe not display or even allow small transactions to be in the system.

We'll be making adjustments soon enough.

There should be something like that with business rep so its not abused.

$0.30? Wait till you see people who do rep4rep using B-rating.
