I use followbros to promote out my client orders and I would like to say that I'm happy with their service. Good luck with sales!

What does it mean "joined a bonus program" on the quality of followers?

We use people who signed up to get followers themselves, they will also start following people to get points which they can then redeem for followers. Whilst getting points we slide in our customers for a section of the bought followers.

Bought followers for some business pages on Facebook and I received them. They are actually responding too (some of them, not all). I was a bit sketchy about it at first, but I'm happy with the results. Cheap IMO as well.

You know I bought something similar to this and it didn't help, they were all just bots, is there any proof they will be active? I am super interested just well sketchy

We fully understand, what you can do is chat with one of our live support members over at the livechat and they will answer all your questions.

Our followers are both real humans (gotten via an opt-in app) and program operated accounts, we will help with engagement for the first 20 posts and you should see likes and comments coming in from all different locations, sometimes from the location of the picture itself but sometimes its from the explore tab too.

Obviously after those 20 posts we cannot guarantee any engagement levels to stick, but there's always the part where you can re-up more posts.

Please read this blog article where we clearly define why buying followers will actually help your account (<https://www.followbros.com/buying-instagram-followers-works/>)

$15 for 1000 as a trial isn't bad. I did read around a bit but I didn't see this question answered. Do the followers come all in a short time period or is it spread out over the course of a week or more?

We do actually answer that question on the how we work page (here).

Based on our own algorithms we will drop the followers onto your account, we will never send all of them in one single day!

I have purchased the $9.99 a month membership. How long until my stuff is confirmed and I can start using the service?

Wait do you own socialinject or is that someone else?

Followbros - July 5, 2018, 12:36 am

We've obviously added an amazing 20% discount for the 4th of July! Don't forget to grab your campaign before it's over. The campaign will run until the 5th of July as a lot of you guys will be celebrating.

We can also work with contracts.

hello im me - July 5, 2018, 7:53 am

I just ordered the 100 'free trial' for 1.5$, il update this post accordingly to how the quality of the followers are and how they engage with my content. If it's good i'l buy the 5000 pack.

SciØn - July 6, 2018, 12:10 am i just ordered the "free" trial for $1.50 for 100 followers. I will update when i get them.

EDIT: Not even five minutes and i got the followers, nice and quick service. Looking forward to buy one of the packages. ?
