Thread: Anyone know how to work with .json files?

Really need help with a .json file that executes for a interactive pdf. (Exemplify software). I wanted to know if there was someone that could take the .json, and get the pdf that would result from it.

I apologize in advance if this is in the wrong forum section!

json isnt an executable format, its just data formatting, like being able to express an array (or multiple) with simple plaintext in a format that even humans can understand.

you start by hitting the log off button at the top of this page next to the 'welcome back' block.
then close your browser and unplug your computer.
then you turn it back on when you decide to start actually wanting to learn anything about computers then you go learn about computers.

the rest comes mostly naturally
