I've noticed that I can't use my own reader for HackForum's RSS feed, I believe either CloudFlare might be blocking it or with the recent change to verify you are human has prevented me from viewing this feed unless I use my browser.

EDIT:

Figured out the issue with my reader, but new issue:

I was checking out IFTTT to see if I can pass the RSS feed through a webhook to present on a feed for one of my RPi's, I'm guessing IFTTT's IP is blocked by CloudFlare, would there be a way to possibly get this IP whitelisted or would this be an issue with possible traffic flooding?

have you tried turning it off and on again

Issue must be on your end since I am able to use RSS feeds. It even works on Amazon Alexa as well. Cloudflare could be blocking, but if that's the case, try a different IP.
