Thread: Ideas for New Upgrade Group?

Omniscient - June 13, 2018, 1:19 pm

I am considering adding a new upgrade group above L33t. Currently the upgrade is l33t->ub3r but I want to change that to L33t->SOMETHING_NEW.

I'm ending the manual approval process of Ub3r. Basically no one is being added to the Ub3r group anymore.

But this thread is about names for a new group. I have a few I've thought of but maybe you can provide more.

Please vote in the poll.

Current ones:

K1NG

B0SS

3V1L

T3CH

R00T

Justin - June 13, 2018, 1:21 pm

I like R00T a lot. I hope that will be the actual name that you'll pick.

M3GA (M3G4)

R0B0T

Biggy - June 13, 2018, 1:23 pm

Root and evil sound pretty bad ass, but root would be easier to use in reference.

“That guy is a R00T member”

“That guy is an 3V1L member”

Steve - June 13, 2018, 1:24 pm

What about POW3R:

I would actually go with "B0SS" for UB3R and "K1NG" for R3KT

Mint - June 13, 2018, 1:25 pm

"H3R0"

"D0P3"

"F4M3"

I like these ones I made up.

Frankey - June 13, 2018, 1:26 pm

K1NG is my favorite. It sounds like you are actually important then :)

Views - June 13, 2018, 1:26 pm

Would current Ub3r members get the new usergroup benefits for free then? I was wondering cause it's a primary usergroup from what I understood (L33t- new group here- Ub3r)

If not I'm defiantly gonna buy the upgrade was just wondering.

I personally like 3V1L but I'm gonna get it regardless to the name.

Zlatane Ibrahimovique - June 13, 2018, 1:37 pm

W1SE

L3GND

Would be my suggestions.

Apart of that I do like R00T, but as root being the top of everything I am not really sure if it would be the most adequate.

The only downside for 3v1L is to be like 3p1c.

Omniscient - June 13, 2018, 1:41 pm

M3GA is nice.

And as you notice the paid group names are all 4 charcters and I prefer to keep it that way.

Quote:Would current Ub3r members get the new usergroup benefits for free then?

No, Ub3r will likely have the same or similar group benefits.

Quote:Bring back P0W3R? I forget if that's the exact way it was written.

A clone site not only stole my idea but my image too. So that's a dead idea.

Mr Kewl - June 13, 2018, 1:42 pm

Why not N3RD? or G33K?

Would love to be either of them, or 3V1L is cool too.

It will replace UB3R upgrade wise (unupgraded > L33T > NEWGROUP). UB3R will still continue to be a group, even though you can't get in if you're not already.

R35P3CT/RSPKT/RSPCT/RESPECT - No major benefits compared to L33T, maybe same benefits as UB3r, just a cool usertag for donating 100/250/500 respectively.

K1NG - Sounds too kiddish and would either have OP benefits or just complete bs benefits.

r00t - Sounds pretty much perfect in line with obviously, the website. 4 letters, exactly what you want, seems to be the majority pick too.

J1zz - Extremely OP benefits, have to go through the whole process of mailing Omni & all staff members a 10.4 ml jizz sample with their social security numbers. Only the elite would be able to join this, top 0.8% of active HF members.

Would be cool if you had like a tiered ranking system.

Everyone starts of as Skiddie, then after X amount of posts in:

The Lounge = Lounge Whore

HF Gamers Zone = Gamer

Programming, Coding, and Languages = Developer

Hacks, Exploits, and Various Discussions = Hacker

White Hat Malware, Virus, and Rat Removal Help = Security Professional

Marketplace = Merchant

You get the idea.

I think it would incentivise participation and engagement across the board. Plus it might help users identify and bridge social preference without dividing the community.

Right or wrong, HF has always been referred to externally as a community of skids. Why not make that our official baseline and offer channels for Skiddies to develop? That's where the real value in HF has always been. Many old school members have matured over the years. Maybe the environment could mature too?

That's a really nice idea, Kudos to you for that.

Users who register are encouraged to post in sections that are their fields of interest.

Does anyone remember those old usertitles (root@hf, nobody@hf, etc.?). They used to be pretty cool to be honest, - like ranks given to people based on their post count. (Used to be similar to this tiered-post/rank-system as well)

Does this mean Ub3rs' will keep the title but have to apply for this new user group? Guessing you'll have to await approval like we did for Ub3r?

Hacks, Exploits, and Various Discussions = Hacker

White Hat Malware, Virus, and Rat Removal Help = Security Professional

Marketplace = Merchant

You get the idea.

I think it would incentivise participation and engagement across the board. Plus it might help users identify and bridge social preference without dividing the community.

Right or wrong, HF has always been referred to externally as a community of skids. Why not make that our official baseline and offer channels for Skiddies to develop? That's where the real value in HF has always been. Many old school members have matured over the years. Maybe the environment could mature too?

Great idea. Yet, not practical. People would spam and make LQP in sections. I'm not a fan of encouraging people to post in sections they have knowledge about or interest in.

Judging by the original post, I do not think so.

Sounds like it will be an additional group that UB3R and L33T (maybe non-upgraded?) members can join. The UB3R members would keep their userbar and have the option to join r00t.

The UB3R user group will have no more new member additions.

If you're sticking with the synonym type of groups "Ub3r/l33t/ep1c" all relating to being something great, SUP3RI0R would seem like a cool group name.

They will remain Ub3r. If they want r00t they can purchase into the group BUT, it's not going to offer them more than what Ub3r already has. I'm not doing this to make all the Ub3rs upgrade again. For the time-being r00t group will have more or less all the same features as Ub3r so there isn't a lot of reason to upgrade into the group. Over time that may change but realistically not anytime soon.

I'll probably upgrade to r00t eventually if they have a different award just for the awards sake/benefits it brings, but then switch back to ub3r so I can look like a genuine oldfag. It'll be glorious.

K1NG is the best one that you came up with, Omni.

Here are some I came up with to consider:

N0VA
B34ST
ALPH4
N0BL, or N0BL3
M4GNA
P0W3R, or P0WR
S3L3CT
C0V3RT
Pr0t0
Ap3x
Cyb3r
D4RK
PRIV8
UPD8

Personally, out of the ones I came up with... n0bl3, ap3x, and pr0t0 are cool. But, I think "D4rk" is the best out of all. Dark just sounds good as a highly upgraded class on a hacking forum. Upd8 is kinda cool too, it uses the numbers in a different way.

What do you think, Omni?
