I learned to expect the unexpected. Like when runescape hacking was removed like 7 years ago.

Database dumps, whaling, Java drivebys. That was all the activity then jagex came in and threatened I believe. I got into RuneScape hacking in 2009.

but there's still ways.

I think this is a sign that any major change you make to a forum/website always has a ripple effect on everything. These cancellations could of easily been avoided by omni if he just kept the same reputation forum rules as before. Maybe let the ubers have fun for a day and went back to how it was now rekt is cancelled due to rep being to easy to come by and same with uber.

Or maybe this was the plan from the start as some sort of a cash grab, I am guessing the new group will be priced at the same or even more than uber being that the ubers in the thread are chanting like a bunch of madmen for l33t to become even more expensive. Here's my opinion of how this shitfest should go if omni is smart about it. Basically all circles around rep since that's all people care about anymore.

3pic= Now has the old l33t rep +1/neutral no neg

L33t= $25 but now has +2/0/-1

R00t= $35 +2/0/-2 / has the same amount of reps you can leave per day as uber. Not sure what he will choose for name color but l33ts is god ugly piss yellow that's why I haven't even upgraded yet.

Im pretty sad to see ub3r go before I was able to get it.

Mudkip - June 14, 2018, 6:17 am

Unexpected changes tbh.

Didn't visit the forum for a few days and came back to these changes.

Everything changes at a certain point though, you just need to get used to it.

DrDoof - June 14, 2018, 6:23 am

Maybe HF should just close down

You either die a hero or you live long enough to see yourself become the villain

Juffar - June 14, 2018, 6:35 am

I really believe that these changes will push the forum even further UP the road. I'm certain that Omniscient knows what's best for this forum as he has made it so successful over the years.

dogsmix - June 14, 2018, 7:31 am

Hey buddy what you will do with old join date

Vince - June 14, 2018, 1:22 pm

All I've seen is a bunch of rep whoring and butthurt ub3rs about their old rep and the marketplace changes taking place.

All this was needed. Rep being abused for newer members. Older members working up rep to do a large exit scam. All this shit was broken.

yes, especially mentor, and admin

we need to all be equal in order to be free

Positive - June 16, 2018, 8:59 am

If ub3rs and r3kts didn't abuse their reputation buttons, both groups would still probably be open. Also, reputation wouldn't have gotten reset if people didn't bitch and complain about the contracts feature.
