Congrulations you find your own thread ?
i wont chat with you anywhere else then here on HF you need to upload it elsewhere and put in a link without http(s):// for example use this site: <https://picload.org/> to upload a picture then again write me what this program is for and why you are going to use it aol101 - June 18, 2018, 7:13 am the application is for sending mail here is the image

Where have you got that picture from? Maybe the Developer havent released it, so give me more information about where you have it from maybe i find the dev and this program.

But before i answer any questions, you need to tell me for what you are going to use that Program for.

and again: But before i answer any questions, you need to tell me for what you are going to use that Program for.

this is your last chance or i quit this Thread and you are on your own foot.

For everyone who is wondering about why i am so rude yet.

@aol101 i dont want to be harsh to you, but i belive you will use it for malicous things. Such Actions are not allowed in this Forum therefore i can not give you any support relating to this aslong as i dont know for what you are going to use this program.
