Thread: We Adopted a Kitten

An?iety - June 16, 2018, 12:38 am

Me and my gf decided to get a kitten, cause why not? They're the best thing in the world!

Her name is scooter and she likes to sleep next to my computer for some reason lol cats do like computers and keyboards, I had a "computer cat" who would sleep on keyboards and randomly press the spacebar when I'd be typing.

Buzzdrone - June 29, 2018, 4:08 pm

That is one cute and fluffy kitty. Has she started walking around on the keyboard yet or is she just enjoying the heat radiating off the computer? Excellent name choice by the way.

Scooter is an interesting name. She's cute.

Aw that's definitely a cute kitten!

SuperCoinsy - July 2, 2018, 2:20 am

Good for you, have fun;;;

FroStorm - July 2, 2018, 2:28 am

Congrats! Your cat kinda reminds me of my cat I got as a kitten too, a long time ago. His name was Blueberry and he was so cute :)

Give it back... your not fit to look after yourself let alone an animal and I only say that coz you got a fucking kitten!

Kirful - August 22, 2018, 7:39 am

Soo cute! Good luck with it!

She probably likes the warmth of your pc, nice job on getting a cooler for your pc.

I have no preference as long as the cat chooses us ...

It would not bother me to adopt a kitten even 10/12 years

I love cats no matter how old they are ...

It may be stupid that she told me to adopt a kitten instead

Maybe my cat will be no more sociable with a small than a big imtoocool1 - August 28, 2018, 8:07 pm

Do kittens require less attention than puppies?

CyberStrike - August 29, 2018, 2:27 pm

Kittens/cats are not like dogs, this said generally they don't like need the attachment also building trust is important. Puppies tend to be more clingy and affectionate. Now I have seen a few cats that were like dogs in the way that they show and give affection and play I had a cat which would go and fetch a ball.
