Thread: Completely hide the Reputations in Marketplace

Motusora - June 16, 2018, 8:18 am when viewing normal threads on market place , obviously you can't see their reputation .

Spoiler (Click to View)

but when you go to stickied threads , you can still see their reputations

Spoiler (Click to View)

and also those people who posted on a stickied thread

Seems like an obvious and welcome change.

Why is this such a problem to you?

Horus God - June 16, 2018, 8:22 am this is new change, only marketplace rep are visble.

Maybe I'm stuck in 2012, but reputation still means something to me.

I'd want to know if I was dealing with someone that has -300 reputation without having to check their profile.

since the reputation was reset , what matters now is the "B ratings" .

Reputation is meaningless now in all aspects cuz you can beg people for that shit, as for trading, what you wanna look for is B-rating, especially when trading now cuz its specifically designed just for that purpose.

I love the B-rating system. I think it's more useful than rep ever was.

I just don't think reputation is completely meaningless.

B?ker - June 16, 2018, 8:56 am

I personally think it should show both in all forums.

Omniscient - June 16, 2018, 1:46 pm

Currently I have decided that Paid Stickies will get the benefit of showing both Reputation and B-Rating.

Partially because some Paid Stickies are not actually Marketplace related. Some are contests or site promotions.

i see , thanks for clarifying, i thought i was a mistake.
