this error keeps popping up.

im browsing, open several tabs, i can refresh them and it works but when i try to go to another page for example this happens.

am i banned for something or whats the problem.

thanks

yes, you're banned, that's why you're posting on the forums right now.

I think you're just browsing quicker than the system can handle. Take it one step a time and you'll be fine. I've had this issue since last night.

Perhaps not, I believe the error you're thinking of is 503 Service Temporarily Unavailable.

Oopsie. That's my mistake. You are 100% correct. I apologize for my confusion.

well just found out it does this on a old open links.

when i search and open the link again, it works.

thats kind of inconvenient.

You're triggering firewall protection because you're browsing too fast and opening multiple tabs.
