Thread: Interval on given reps?

Brill - June 19, 2018, 5:03 pm

Man I swear there are people just running scripts to sit there and rep upgraded members. I been peeping profile and just see people go from rep page to rep page. I'm aware of rep not meaning much now but perhaps an interval will stop the random rep bots. I'm not certain people are automating it, but if it's not happening already, it's bound to happen eventually in a community full of smart people lol.

Just my $0.02, what do you think?

AeroBlue - June 19, 2018, 5:04 pm

Lol there are no rep bots calm down

There's a limit on how many reps per day. Now you want to limit reps per minute/hour? Why? This will do nothing at the end of the day (literally)

I bet they exist already actually. And if they don't exist now then they will be the moment a userscript creator sees this thread.

what better way to farm rep than to spend 20 minutes writing a script to rep upgraded members for reciprocation rep while you're at work or school? i assume you joined terminal under the loungers sector lol

I don't understand the point tho, its literally limited to 25 rep and rate post per day... I mean I guess you could make a bot but its pretty pointless...

What does it matter.

There are plenty of people who use all their 25 reps, whether they do it manually or by bot, it it's no big deal.

Exactly my point, its not like it's a long and hard process to rep 25 people lol like i said, i just haven't seen anything mentioned on it so perhaps there is a possibility Omni never thought of this before increasing reps per day or updating the Help Docs. how users gain rep is up to them, i couldn't care less. i'm just putting my ideas on the table, that's all

SIM-1866423 - June 19, 2018, 6:45 pm

Its too easy to make one so .. not big deal.

Yeah. Since at least 2015.

But setting a timeframe i.e 1 rep / hour isn't gonna change anything. They will just update the script to make it run once per hour and wait in the background in the meantime.

Zher0 - June 19, 2018, 7:49 pm

I think there currently is one. Every 5-6 reps i get the error message stating i hit my max for today. If i wait 5-15 minutes i can give rep again...

I'm workin' on it right now ?

Kidding. What's the plan when members' rep go into the 10 000's in the future? I'm sure the admins have probably discussed this between themselves already.

What's wrong with 10,000 rep? ?

Agreed, it is a meaningless number now. Someone can have 100,000 and I wouldn't care

Ha, I see.

It's not like the lounge/outside-marketplace posts are ever taken seriously anyways.

I like what you guys did with the marketplace though. ?
