Thread: Post Reputations Disabled

Omniscient - June 20, 2018, 12:11 pm

I have decided to disable them for now until I either recode the feature or maybe just never use it again. It's apparent that it will be abused eventually to the point where it will be a problem. So for now it's disabled and you can only leave 1 rep for a member.

I sort of liked giving reps from posts though. I have to think about a better implementation.

Thank you.

That's unfortunate hehe.

Maybe disable neg reps through the rate button or only allow 1 neg rep to be placed?

God of Thunder - June 20, 2018, 12:15 pm

I guess that's a good thing, at least people won't be able to make their threads lucrative with the 'rate a post' rep

Angelus - June 20, 2018, 12:15 pm

Ah dang that sucks :(

But if it means we'll get a more refined version of it later I'm totally down to wait a while :)

Thanks for the update b0ss ?

Xerotic and I will come up with something later on.

?Saadi - June 20, 2018, 12:17 pm

Fair decision. Hoping there can be a viable solution to the duplication rep problem.

If in case the posts reputation feature is permanently removed (which I hope not), will the existing post reputations given be deleted?

Grizzlies - June 20, 2018, 1:15 pm

Instead of reps, why not just add likes?

Was just going to say this. Maybe we can have reactions like being able to thank someone for a post, like a post, disagree, etc.

webdev77 - June 20, 2018, 5:26 pm

I like the idea of rep for posts because it can basically be a thanks button to indicate a helpful post with far less BS involved. Shame that mybb is so bad at some things.

TB12 - June 20, 2018, 5:28 pm

Shame people have to always ruin things. All good though, not the end of the world :)

I really like the post reputation feature as it provides some context to the reputation.

BITW - June 20, 2018, 5:39 pm

Honestly but i did not want this feature. Too many were rep abusing. A very good decision, sir.

Qwazz - June 20, 2018, 5:53 pm

Whatever works. People are still going crazy.

I-I-I - June 20, 2018, 6:27 pm

Negative or Positive reputation without a fuckin' meaning or any satisfactory reason shouldn't be allowed. It's totally unfair for normal members.

I thought you did that intentionally as I read it here

I never knew how to do it I was always wondering...

Thank you.

You need to create a ratio of repgiven/repreceived.

Great decision there. We werent too sure about the rules around "post reputations".

It can be very cool to also implement the repreceived in the "user activity page" where you can have statistics on which subforum he received the most reputation from etcetc...

Forgot to add : you could have those variable implemented in HFAPI

FCC - June 21, 2018, 5:18 am

I suggest enabling it but going back to the old rules of rep where you're not allowed to ask for it or pay for it. It wouldn't be a problem if everyone's rep was genuine. Although if we only used the B-rating system that would be nice too. It could definitely be a replacement for rep because it's more designed for business use.

Bill Gates - June 21, 2018, 5:29 am l33ts should be allowed to -1 while you're looking at changing things, and also add trust scan feature also for l33ts, cheers fella.

Ames - June 21, 2018, 6:02 am

Since reputation is not consider user actual status .

We can have some reputation system based on user forum activity, like how many like he got, posts, rank, awards.

So like a combine system based reputation so no chance of violation.

And that reputation will actually worth coz it will be only gain by forum activity not by request/purchase.

No you cant, i have tried multiple times on multiple users and all i get is this

And why should an epic donation at a lower cost get trust scan and not l33t, which has paid more to the site, it's counter productive. It's silly, that you don't offer a feature to all user groups, which actually might be beneficial to stop people getting ripped off, or maybe making a more informed choice whether to deal with someone or not.

You have to own both to trust scan

So it's am gouging thing then? Why not have ALL user groups with that ability? it isn't going to hurt, it would help.

Yeah.

Saw that also.

Glad this is now deleted.

Juffar - June 21, 2018, 5:39 pm

I never even realized that you could double spend them like that.

Malwhere? - June 23, 2018, 10:43 am

That is a shame, a lot of people were proud of the rep but we must go with the flow :)

Formant - June 23, 2018, 11:20 am

I agree that reps from posts would, in theory, be nice, but it can be abused way too easily.

Some forums have a "thanks" button on threads and personally, I'm not a fan of that. Same with thread or post "reactions". This is what thread ratings are for...

If someone makes a funny comment or something, a simple +1, 2, or 3 is plenty. Whenever I've repped someone for a post or a thread in the past, I would just link it in the reputation. It's clear and other people can see why that specific reputation was given. That should be enough imho.
