Thread: eBay & PayPal Holding Funds

Kubrick - June 21, 2018, 12:43 pm

Greetings,

I dont know if this thread is posted on the correct section but if not I would like a moderator to transfer it.

I sold my iPhone on eBay with my PayPal account but when the buyer sent the payment my money has be shown as "On Hold" by PayPal until 12 July.

Is there any way so I can take my money faster than that?

PS. *Also, buyer has already left a positive feedback

Thank you!

That usually happens to new members.

I don't think you can do anything besides waiting.

Just wait it out, when phone will be delivered you will get the money.

Upload tracking information to paypal should speed up the process

That's still a low count of feedback .. If the phone was a few hundred they will hold that amount .

But on a better note if you sent the item with a tracking number if the buyer has received the phone all you do is contact paypal give the tracking number and paypal will release the money :-)

Either upload tracking or at least mark it as shipped

You're going to have to wait it out. It's been more than 2 months since you last sold on ebay so hence why it'll be like that. Providing tracking will defo improve your chances of getting the funds faster.

He doesn't have to wait it out as i said if he sent via using tracking if the buyer has paid then the item is signed for so he can then phone paypal give the tracking number and the money will be released

I have been on Ebay for 14 years buying and selling and have 3 accounts so i kinda know how it works

Time has nothing to do with it, I just sold my first thing in years and there was no hold

That's strange. I've spoken to people with similar problems as mine and the OP, I guess it's something on our end.

It's not strange you just don't know what your talking about ... Simples ?

sAVITAR - June 22, 2018, 5:05 am

You're just going to have to wait it out.

You're literally shit posting at this point.

Three users have already quoted saying it's nothing related to "waiting it out"

Three users have already quoted saying it's nothing related to "waiting it out" well, I've had this multiple times so I'm speaking from experience, PayPal doesn't give a fuck if you want your money sooner. They don't care if you already shipped. It's useless to message them in my opinion. They never reduced the waiting time for me.

The reason you get this hold block is something else. I'm just saying what you can do about it.

On hold doesn't mean he charged back. What that means is that the buyer didn't have the necessary funds on his paypal account. And that paypal is going to try and get it from his bank, this takes time. And since PayPal doesn't have the funds they're not releasing it to you. Most of the time you'd see a notification saying "wait with sending before transaction has cleared".

Hxdes - June 22, 2018, 8:06 am

Waiting it out is the best option

TimeFromTarget - June 22, 2018, 10:11 pm

That means it is currently being processed

Bluffer - June 22, 2018, 11:00 pm

If there is a way for buyer to mark it as recieved that should speed things up. Had this issue when I used to use eBay for money making. It goes away once you've built your reputation on eBay up a bit.

I don't think they have that option, they can only leave feedback and that might have an impact on it.

ANONYMOUS - June 23, 2018, 7:35 am eBay releases the funds 3 days after delivery confirmation.
