legitsenseuser - June 24, 2018, 11:20 am

No contract displayed.

Code [align=center][video=youtube]https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=ggPKxnS43Xg&t[/video]

[color=#3399ff]we currently offer 2 products:[/color]

-a 150 Slot based league cheat, designed for pro players, streamers, or people who want to cheat on high-value main-accounts they still wanna cheat on with basic features and stream proof visuals so your viewers and anticheats wont notice the visuals.

-a cheaper casual cheat, designed for people who like to have a real custom cheat packed with a lot of features to enjoy cheating as much as possible while still maintaining the highest security level possible for valve's anticheat.

[color=#3399ff]some cheat-features available:[/color]

- a legit and customizable Aimbot-System
- Triggerbot with (optional) optimized hit-chance calculation
- Visual features like our glow esp
- a fully functional Skin Changer providing the ability to use every possible Skin in the game on every Weapon!
- features for streamers / youtubers / league cheaters like our stream-proof box esp
- an audio esp if you prefer to not use any visual features at all but still have an advantage
- ...and much more! for a full feature list, please visit our website and look for the product of your choice!

unlike other cheatproviders where every user receives the same product, we always make sure you are running a unique build of our client, after every time you used our cheat the client will create a new unique version of itself.

I find this problematic, similar to how imi mentioned this earlier. As far as I am aware there is no way that you can have unique builds with that size range without using a large amount of junk code.

I also find it really concerning, that OP closed his old thread and just reopened a new one after receiving criticism.

Also even though their Privacy Policy is packed with much information, it doesn't comply with EU or in their case more specific german Law and I wouldn't buy from a site which can't even provide a proper Privacy Policy.

Well in fact it doesn't matter if they're registered in the EU or not, they make their website available in the EU so they have to comply with EU Law.

Nice article about this:

Uh, how do you have "vacnet support"?

netpulse - June 24, 2018, 9:40 pm

Ye, at first he had just closed the thread but it seems like he wanted to clean all the bad opinions of his thread, not surprising tbh

Also, vacnet support is bs.

And ofc they do use junk code, what were you expecting?

Btw, he also deleted some features that received criticism like hwid spoofer.

How do you defeat "every detection vector" that's server side when you don't exactly know what's server side? You are aware that VACNET learns right(heuristics)? It doesn't just sit around and wait for you to push a bad angle.

Also I have a question about your "unique" builds, you posted a picture of file explorer and the different names and file sizes however this doesn't prove unique builds in the slightest.

You could simply be pumping data into the end of the .exe or just adding junk code. I would recommend perhaps using SigBench, even though it's not perfect it provides a better form of "proof" than your screenshot.

Apologies If I this appears in anyway negative, I was just curious and wanted to pass a little bit of advice.

I am not hating, I am just stating facts. But I guess I just struck a nerve :)

Again, the facts I mentioned and a few new ones (in a nice list so you can defend yourself to my horrific attacks)

1. You closed the old thread after you got a lot of criticism and opened a new one.
2. Your huge difference in file size on different builds, definitely is due to junk code. There is no other explanation for differences of up to 7mb
3. My pay2cheat had a sufficient privacy policy before GDPR took effect and on May 25th we updated/changed it to comply with the GDPR and even offer an overview where people can see all the private data we collect about them. So to answer your question, yes my p2c had a sufficient privacy policy from the beginning.
4. It doesn't matter if you're a registered company or not. You make your website available to the EU and you collect data about your EU website visitors. This means you have to have a proper privacy policy.
5. You claim to have good security against anticheats when you can't even properly protect your cheat against leaks.
6. You don't know who I am, I don't know who you are. But I do know that everything regarding legitsense that has been public so far, is lacking security and is not a high quality product like you say.
7. You say, you support VACnet which you just can't as you have no idea how it exactly operates (no one does except for Valve).
8. You had features like "Trustfactor boost" in the past which literally did NOTHING.

Oh and our cheat was never a resource of our client. Provide proof if you can, otherwise just be quiet netpulse - June 25, 2018, 9:19 am

The HWID spoofer received criticism cause its a useless feature for 99% of serverside ACs.

Except if you think that faceit is banning hwids through their serverside AC?

I'll have to agree with imitator, lots of useless features that does nothing except bringing (and ripping off, basically) clients that aren't that well informed.

And no, you can't support vacnet cause its new AND not efficient yet, that means that this thing is evolving each day. So nope.

Also, it looks like you haven't even bothered to understand what is vacnet, you're talking about serverside checks like if it was some kind of serverside AC when its not, its all about deep learning. So its definitely not working like a typical serverside AC would do at all.

Also, copying gamesense name is ridiculous, you're trying to make ppls think that you're somewhat affiliated or coded by the same guy.

So in the end, your cheat is all about marketing to bring uninformed ppls and rip them off.

And idk how you can even tell "idk you" to imitator and talk about taking pics when YOU ARE the nobody here.

sm?ked - June 25, 2018, 10:27 am

Geez I think your definitely smarter than 3 established p2c owners, 2 of which own externals.

I was about to buy this to try but that VACNET claim is obvious pure marketing bs and for that reason shows something is fishy.

VVAACC - June 26, 2018, 7:44 am

Bought it, all was and is fine.

I'm a legit sense customer since months and no problems so far.

I see this thread get hated a lot by HighMinded guys (maybe cause they just have to throw shit against who doesn't wanna lick their ass in the cheating providing scene),but i suggest you to look at your self.

Someone that has hated a lot on this thread is selling a p2c outdated since month, which has a recode in progress since almost one year and the only release he was capable to do is a "wannabe" beta that (even at the moment of the release) was already outdated as hell.

By the way just a clarification: i was a customer when it got leaked (it got leaked once, not multiple times as someone wants to relate), and even if it got leaked it was still undetected and noone has been banned.

I remember old times when ev0 was getting leaked once a week , but still you're there to sell it, so why shouldn't he does the same after it.

And it's not only about Ev0 but tons of cheats got leaked in the past , even those which you dont throw shit on.

It survived the last huge vacwave/VACnet wave, what ever it is; i can't say the same about the others.

Imi-tator no hate, but you should focus on your things and improve your very bad p2c, before trying to "demarketing" or (call it as you want) talking shit about others.

Just an opinion from a customer, nothing personal.

registered probably today, 2 messages (well you at least introduced yourself), the same general mistakes/problems with the english language as the thread creator, hating on me/ev0lve because the facts I stated struck a nerve.

My conclusion is, that this is:

1. a Multiaccount
2. a Fakereview

trust me, our pay2cheat probably is at least as good as this.

Also I am not "demarketing" or, as it actually is called, sales trashing anything. I am just stating facts and post my opinion.

I can provide proof or educated thoughts (not necessarily mine) on every statement I made while neither the thread creator nor you can do so for your statements.

I'm not a multi, nor i am the owner of legitsense.

As i stated above, i'm just a customer, and i tryed so many cheats/p2c ev0lve included so you should stop suppositions.

I recently registered on this forum, doesn't mean i don't know what i'm talking about.

I'm not hating, i'm just telling you what the majority of the customers i know thinks about your p2c, and i got no reasons to lose my time to make fake reviews.

I don't get one thing: you can stat your fact, your supposition to the others, but others can't on you. You're a bit touchy and hypocritical.

One last thing : you didn't "struck a nerve" as you, dear english lord, suppose (or want to convince about) but i'm just saying that you're wrong on putting so much hate on legitsense. You have so much work to do on your "project" that you should waste less time on legitsense's threads (i saw how much you love it).

The majority of customer THAT I KNOW, as i wrote above, not the entire customer base.

If there's guys using penguware, i don't get why shouldn't be there someone that still using ev0.

Yes i can express my opinion and you can do the same, but from what i saw you was just stating hate, ofcourse followed by your HighMinded's friends.

Just because i stated my opinion and trying to have a decent discussion with you (even if we don't agree), i got a -3 rep from someone (which i bet is your friend and/or ass licker [i saw many on ev0lve/highminded too]).

Now, i would like so much to show him the fuck i give about his "-reps" but i'm not here to take care of those kids.

I'm just telling that there's no reason for you nor for those asslickers, to put so much effort on the legitsense trash talking mission, cause as for every other CS:GO cheats there will be users that appreciate/will appreciate it and users that doesn't/will not.

That's sad, I think anyone that is marketing VACNet support should not be supported until corrected. That's like saying "undetectable" and it literally is just wrong to say this to the public that might be foolish enough to think that it's true. I think that false marketing should have consequences. Like in your thread, if they are supporting this imaginary bullshit they should be shown for false advertising and move to the bottom of the list. There is no reason to put up with it, just because developers want to say something that isn't true. If I was subscribed to anyone that was advertising this I would charge back under false advertisement.

They are doing exactly under this definition:

Quote:False advertising is the use of false, misleading, or unproven information to advertise products to consumers or advertising that does not disclose its source.

That's like saying "undetectable" and it literally is just wrong to say this to the public that might be foolish enough to think that it's true. I think that false marketing should have consequences. Like in your thread, if they are supporting this imaginary bullshit they should be shown for false advertising and move to the bottom of the list. There is no reason to put up with it, just because developers want to say something that isn't true. If I was subscribed to anyone that was advertising this I would charge back under false advertisement.

They are doing exactly under this definition:

I get what you mean. But then again. Pretty much all providers is anyway guilty in false marketing unconsciously, by saying they are VAC2/3 undetected, yet gets detected. It's not entirely the same, because it's unconsciously, but still somewhat alike.

You can make something undetected, but it can become detected. It is impossible to make something undetectable because there is always a way to detect something. So that is not false advertising, what they are saying is that it is undetected at the movement. They're not saying undetectable and that it will never be detected. So it's not false marketing, but saying you support VACNet is, simply because it is self learning and you're stating anything the user does with the cheat will bypass VACNet. I mean people take things different ways, but I personally will never support a cheat that has "VACNet Support".

Well countless of cheats, states undetected, even though they are detected and are just waiting for a banwave to roll in. And most often when they know they are detected, they don't update the undetected to detected on their product page. So it is kinda false advertising but unconsciously.

Like other people before me already stated, the email is written in poor English and contains "information" that would NEVER be made public by any AntiCheat provider, ever.

The only guys who would benefit from that email would be legitsense.cc
Also it's a known fact that I genuinely dislike adopekid and his behavior, so that would explain why one of OUR emails was used.
Last but not least, this email is the one that's publicly available in our privacy policy but has nothing to do with ev0lve in particular as it's from a third party, so the use of this exact email probably happened due to lack of information.

Q: Is this email fake?

A: It most certainly LOOKS LIKE, given the fact that our DPR never wrote an email to the ESL or received any emails from them, as well as the horrible use of the English language which is untypical for a company as big as ESL.

Also no AntiCheat provider would ever hand out information about the detection status of any cheat.

This cheat is literally a fucking joke, "legitsense" using a part of skeet's name in order to try and make it seem like your cheat is somehow "related" to skeet to get more customers. And regarding that email it's quite obviously faked ESL would not give out information like that nor would the person responding to such a email have the grammar of a 3rd grader. I'm generally curious as to why you the "customer" is sitting and trying to defend the cheat, when the owner / staff should be doing it. Although I'm fairly sure you are the owner / a staff member, so doesn't really surprise me. What a coincidence that you're brand new to hackforums aswell, and your second post was on this thread and all you've been doing since then is trying to defend this cheat. Pretty sketchy if you ask me, also I like that marketing of yours where you attempt to get more customers by advertising with a faked email rofl.

first of all if you would have received such a screenshot of an email you would use it as advertisement for your cheat too, dont even try to deny that. and your claim that 'no ac team in the world would hand out the detection status of a cheat', grab yourself some information, sadly 4pl league doesnt exist anymore(which i bypassed when you didnt even know how to spell coding) so i can not refer to the real post but here is a twitter post from a cheat provider back then (who also used it as promotion) - https://twitter.com/Organner_pl/status/236508436072898560 can you use your mind for a second and take a look at the screenshot and how i used it to advertise my cheat? of course, when i receive a screenshot like that i will use it to advertise my cheat, but did i in any sentence claim that it is related to you?

the way you started this trashtalk again is another impicator of that you are just wanting to trashtalk again, did anybody ever claim anything that this is related to you before your posts now? holy shit dont you do some sports or have a girlfriend or anything to do in your life that you constantly have to think and talk about me?

if i would be such a person i would have just said something like 'haha imi-tator trying to get us esl detected' , but nah, thats not the way i am - thats the way you are. i just thanked esl for admitting they cant detect us. im still pretty sure the screenshot is real since you are the only person trying to trashtalk me 24/7 in your life and even thinking about me before going to sleep but who knows maybe you are right, you are the one trying to trashtalk anyone, i am the one who does not give the smallest amount of fuck about you or your shady company.

also you state 'its a fact this email is fake' - proof that please.

now you can write another (colorful) wall of text again with some retarded arguments too make the users think you are right and intelligent, for me? idgaf about this anymore and i wont respond to it anymore, i dont grant you free promotion. and good luck on your search about someone who has my name or adress on discord, dumb retard, last year i was publicly showing of REAL ak47's and drugs, do you think i dont secure myself? i was living 2 years hidden in the ukraine (this is a proven fact i've already proved this to my staff members back then inb4 you claim i just lie) cause i had to escape from the police who was searching me international, i exactly know what i do and i am in this business for more than 10 years now. we are just like in*ebz, we are not afraid of any police shit.

and that you claim on another board you wanna try to let the police make the job just shows off what a snitch you are, beg that you never meet me in real life, we are not people who talk a lot and then do nothing, idk if you remember last year that chro's guy who leaked us, took me an hour to get his phone number and after i called his mommy the leak was away 5 minutes later, i've got my connections to everywhere cause im not a random coder like you sitting in front of his computer the whole day playing video games and eating fast food - but now i know that this was a mistake cause leaks do promote us even more lol, thats why our sales increased back then when you (or better say your friend who has real skill) leaked us.

people are happy with our product and nobody who used it ever complained except some 'special' people who think its undetected on esea or faceit client (which i never said btw, else - proof it please) so i guess the quality speaks for us, even menalix admitted that, so inb4 you wanna ride the h-min wave and just claim we are scam -

<https://gyazo.com/1bc03ffac545a77a67477a278c365c01> , a scam that constantly gets updated and appreciated (ok our forums are a bit empty, but our discord is full of people). what i hear from your customers is mixed feelings, you dont improve your cheat, you dont support any leagues while still have nearly the same prices as us and also another bad habits not professional people do. so i guess your business and also your business strategy with copying every available feature on the market into 1 product is not the best one while getting detected every once and there. tbh i guess you dont have any business strategy, your cheat is just like every other random p2c, there is no reason to buy it in my eyes, i guess thats the reason you've implemented the fake 'application system'.

thats why you need to bring some retarded pixel aimbot for overwatch to at least earn some pocket money from people who think its good. it will bring you some fast money now maybe yes, but after 1 year you are forgotten again just like you are in the time when you are not talking about us. just accept your role as a dog trying to get attention by trashtalking other providers (especially us cause we are the most talked about cheat atm). i could trashtalk you too and claim that i wanna protect potential customers from scam, cause you claim you have an 'application system' - did you ever deny someone? maybe 1-2 people at start but thats it. so YOU are literally scam and i shut my mouth cause i dont do the mistakes you do.

last but not least thanks for the free promotion, you are so retarded you think you hurt us but you make us more rich than we already are. our clicks increased a lot since your trashtalk. lets say you trashtalk about some shit sportswear campaign with good facts and you can really provide proofs that they are low quality. 80% of people believe you and think its trash, still ~40% will take a look at it and ~20% will buy it cause they wanna see themselves. and i guess 20% increase of sales is better than 0% increase of sales if you would just have shut your mouth up, you get what i mean? (and the other guys who believed you will still think and talk about it which will give it even more attention) - everything you do and did to harm us and thought it was intelligent was just completely dumb and always increased our userbase but trust me, we already have plans to use the attention youve granted us, i guess now its the best time for a free legitsense weekend after so much trashtalk, if you want and have some spare time your friend can leak us again to step the promotion up even a bit more so people have a bit more time to decide whether to buy it or not. would be thankful! and dont worry - i wont call the police or do any lawish trash cause im not cooperating with the state at all (unlike you who would get his best friend in jail just to save your own ass) your product exists since 2015 and you got like 6k members now, we exist since like 11 month and have already nearly halve the userbase of you - dont you think you are doing something wrong and/or we do something right? all our customers are satisfied with the product and we have quite a good subscription renewal rate - if we would be as bad as you always try to claim why people stick to us and tell us how much they love our product every day?

remember one sentence: "there is no bad promotion, if people talk about you - youve already won."

maybe this text taught you a lesson and you overthink your behaviour, but as i know people like you you will just respond with some random trash again. and inb4 you bring your standard argument "uuhh i just wanna protect the potential customers from your low quality product which is so easy to leak" - yes i know im not the best when it comes to anti-leak, but that doesnt matter cause as you saw even the leak did not affect the security of our customers at all and it will never affect it. you are getting constantly detected while we never been detected, mind your own business.

Lets look at the facts here. We know esl will never write with such bad english. And who else here has english like he has never been to school? The op of this post. And if indeed it was real why in his right mind would imitator share it to begin with, he isnt a fan of your cheat and theres no way to get a hold of this screenshot unless either he leaks it or if its fake.

Or its by someone else who is just doing it to see the both of you fight(i think its this).

Claim: You had features like "Trustfactor boost" in the past which literally did NOTHING

Proof: look at the one before and check the Thread on HM (you can also reverse the Cheat yourself)

Claim: You claim to support VACNet.

Proof: VACNet support can be seen in the first post, you also admitted that it was just for marketing purposes.

Claim: You are advertising your cheat with an email related to us instead of simply removing it and saying: Oh I thought it was real, sorry

Proof: <https://i.imgur.com/cNpjwla.png> (this now has been corrected afaik)

Claim: You never provided proof for any statement you made against me/us

Proof: read your last replies...

Claim: Your unique builds look like pumped with junkcode, how else would you get size differences of up to 7mb between builds?

Proof: <https://gyazo.com/1615514bf332272dd619ef209b24d352> (Left is your unique builds, right is our custom builds, see how different the results are for you? Idk what else happens there but junkcode definitely is involved).

Claim: You are the only one to benefit from that email.

Proof: Well how should I prove that, except for common sense. An email saying "provider xyz is undetectable by our AntiCheat" just simply doesn't benefit anyone except "provider xyz"

That is exactly why I do it. I added "Matchmaking" to the supported anti-cheat list after I got fed the fuck up with brain-dead third worlders asking me if the cheat was undetected in Valve matchmaking and then "VACnet" recently after people kept fucking asking if we were detected by VACnet after that VMT hook detecting update by VAC detected a bunch of cheats.

face on fleek, and you never saw it so where comes that prediction from?

the attitude im on COMES from real life, we dont live the same life bro trust me we dont lol

L0RE - September 19, 2018, 3:46 pm

Yeah we dont live the same life, I go uni and study a subject you cant spell even though its 3 letters. "Face on fleek", i can tell youre trying to act cool, but let me help you out here. something being fleeky, is mainly used by girls. Stop trying to use words you have no idea about you beg.

Someone that vouch for project-7 can't really give a single opinion about any cheats.

You're irrelevant

Don't buy, they are scammers and they scam for private builds, scam report coming soon, they bought paid sticky with my money http:// prntscr.com /mg01yt (Same day when I sent him money he bought paid sticky on this forum)

elbourt206 - February 3, 2019, 9:28 am

I'd hold off on purchasing this if you're considering it... It's been 3-4 days since last CS GO update and the cheat still hasn't been updated. No official postings from them that its not up to date, but yet they still are taking subscriptions. At this point everyone is just waiting for "soon" to happen.

Definitely not acceptable considering they have over a hundred customers waiting for it. Support seems lack luster

Decided to give them a try after reading "never been detected by vac". Getting a refund seems like its out of the equation so I guess you live and you learn. Would definitely look elsewhere.
